HOT WEATHER AND FLOODS TAKE TOLL OF 30 LIVES OVER NATION

TRANS-OCEAN PLANES AGAIN ARE HELD UP

Adverse Weather Conditions Over Atlantic Is Cause of Delay

OLD ORCHARD, Me., May 30.—
(UP)—The transatlantic flight attempts of the monoplanes
"Green Flash" and "Yellow Bird," balked by accidents yesterday, were held up indefinitely today by adverse weather conditions.

Postponements were decided upon after receipt of a report from Dr.
James H. Kimball of the New York weather bureau, stating that head winds would be encountered over the Atlantic.

Armeno Lotti Jr., backer of the "Yellow Bird" project, for a flight to Paris, said he would leave during the day with Rene Lefevre, pilot, for New York, to await more propitious weather. Jean Assolant, the other pilot of the French craft, remained here.

Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A.
Yancey of the American plane, hoped to take off tomorrow, but said they would wait longer if necessary for favorable conditions.

The broken wheel of the "Green Flash" was repaired last night and the plane put in readiness for another attempt to get away toward Rome.

GEN. PERSHING'S CAR IN SAN JOSE PARADE

SAN JOSE, May 30.—(UP)— Former buck privates sat on the cushions of an automobile, which carried General John Pershing to and from the battle lines of France, in the Memorial day parade here today.

The car, an ancient Locomobile, is the property of Father William E. Riker of Holy City. It was recognized by "C. E. B." manager of the Holy City radio station, KFQU, and yesterday confirmation was received from the Loco-mobile factory that the car had once been used by Pershing.

Father Riker had planned to use the car, which originally cost $17-000, for a tow car.

General Pershing had given the car to Major General Hunter Liggett, from whose hands it passed to wreckers.

Sewers Wrecked By Explosions; Woman Succumbs to Burns

OTTAWA, Ont., May 30.—(UP) —Sections of Ottawa resembled shell-torn sectors today as authorities pressed their investigation of the series of explosions which wrecked portions of the city's sewer system and inflicted great property damage to adjacent buildings.

Mrs. Anna Hayden, 73, was fatally burned in her home when she attempted to extinguish a fire started by the explosion. Of the dozen injured none was expected to live.

There were two distinct series of explosions, occurring yesterday at noon and 3 p. m. Residents were thrown into a panic by the first blasts and the second series, caused scenes of pandemonium as women ran screaming into the streets and families abandoned their homes.

L. A. PHYSICIAN UNDER ARREST IN TORSO CASE

Dr. Frank Westlake Held On Suspicion of Murder Of Laura Sutton

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—Dr. Frank Westlake, middle aged retired physician, was held here today charged with suspicion of murder in connection with the Los Angeles "torso" murder.

The arrest of Dr. Westlake followed an announcement that authorities had partially identified the headless, limbless body found in the river more than a month ago as that of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton of Los Angeles.

According to Captain William Bright, chief of the county homicide squad, Westlake told a conflicting story of his social and financial relationship with Mrs. Sutton.

He is said to have admitted that he held a joint bank account and that the funds had been depleted since Mrs. Sutton was last seen. The fact that the woman conveyed him some property also was admitted by the doctor, Bright said.

Dr. Westlake denied any knowledge of the "torso" murder. He said he had heard from Mrs. Sutton several times since the torso was found April 4. On May 19, he claimed she sent him a note. The note asked that he reply through the classified ad-of a newspaper and he complied, Dr.
Westlake declared.

COMPLETE JURY IN L. A. 'FRAMING' CASE

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—Nine men and three women today composed the jury selected to hear the second conspiracy trial of Mrs. Callie Grimes and five former police officers, who are accused of "framing" Coun-cillman Carl I. Jacobson on a moral case.

Taking of testimony began today. The jury was expected sometime during the day to go to the house where Jacobson was arrested with Mrs. Grimes.

Prosecution contends that the defendants "framed" the council-man's arrest to check his campaign against vice conditions in Los Angeles.

SUPERVISORS OF SOUTHLAND HOLD MEETING

Tom Hurley of San Diego Elected Chairman During Anaheim Meet

EIGHT COUNTIES of Southern California were represented at a meeting called to form an organization of county supervisors of this part of the state, at Anaheim Elks club house yesterday afternoon.

Tom Hurley of San Diego, who was instrumental in the formation of the association, was elected as temporary chairman and M. Haskett, chairman of the board of county supervisors of Santa Barbara county, was chosen as temporary secretary.

Election of officers will take place at a meeting to be held in August. The date for the meeting has not been set and this and the meeting places will be decided on later.

By-laws adopted at yesterday's session call for meetings to be held twice a year unless on special call. The name chosen for the organization was "The Southern California Supervisors' Association." The object of the association was declared to be for the furtherance of legislative matters of common interest to all counties of Southern California.

One member from each board of county supervisors is to be selected by the individual board as a representative. About 35 were present at the initial meeting. William Schumacher, of Anaheim, presided at the dinner which was served at the Elks clubhouse at 6:30 o'clock.

Counties represented yesterday were Tulare, Kern, Orange, Riverside, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, Ventura and San Diego.

FILM STAR FIGHTS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—Norman Kerry, screen actor, will contest a divorce action charging cruelty brought against him by his wife, Rosene T. Kaiser, it was announced by Kerry's attorney today.

The fact that the suit was brought against the actor on April 26 was not revealed until yesterday because it had been filed under his legal name, Norman Kaiser.

Kerry's wife charged him with cruelty that caused mental anguish and alleged she was called vile names in the presence of screen colony friends. Kerry is in the east.

MRS. INNES CALLED BY DEATH TODAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Ruth Innes, 66, passed away at her home, 709 Main street, this morning. She was the wife of the late W. L. Innes, whose death several months ago was a shock to his many friends in this county. Mrs. Innes was a prominent member of the Baptist church and has been in ill health since the death of her husband. Announcement of the funeral services will be made later from the Winbiger funeral home. Mrs. Innes is survived by one son, Welles Innes, of Glendale.

Texas Streams Out Of Banks; Seven Killed

Sudden Heat Wave Grips Entire Country From
N. Y. to Rockies

HEAT, summer storms and floods in widely separated parts of the U. S. had taken a toll of 30 lives today.

From the Atlantic seaboard to the Rocky mountains the country was sweltering under a blanket of steam which caused numerous prostrations. Many drownings were reported from regions where the sudden heat wave had driven people into lakes and rivers still chilled by a cold spring.

In Texas summer rains had sent streams out of their banks and seven persons were reported to have lost their lives in the high waters.

A tabulation of deaths based on United Press dispatches from afflicted areas showed the following deaths:

- Albany, N. Y.—Killed by heat, 2.
- Philadelphia and vicinity—Killed by heat, 2.
- Hartford, Conn.—Killed by heat and storms, 4.
- New York City—Killed by heat, 4.
- Boston—Killed by heat, 3.
- Texas—Drowned in floods, 7.
- Edgerton, Wis.—Drownings, 4.
- Chicago—Killed by heat, 2.
- Decatur, Ill.—Drownings, 1.
- Wabash, Ind.—Drowning, 1.

$200,000 BLAZE RAZES GYMNASIUM

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—A complete inventory will be made today of the art objects lost in a $200,000 fire which razed the University of Southern California gymnasium and damaged the Armstrong museum last night.

Defective wiring in the gymnasium started the fire, and the flames soon spread to the adjoining museum.

An original tintoretto, "The Adoration of the Magi," was saved, but other valuable paintings and antiques were either burned or damaged by water.

Carl Joanovsky, 22, former student, was badly burned in a heroic, but unnecessary, attempt to rescue firemen whom he feared were trapped in the burning gymnasium.

15 Hurt As Police Officers, College Students Battle

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 30.—
(UP)—Fifteen persons, all but one of them Brown university students were in hospitals here today following a series of "town-and-gown" clashes in which police battled students on the streets of the city last night.

Several other students and a few policemen suffered bumps and bruises during the rioting, which broke out following the annual necktie-burning ceremonies of the freshman class.

One of the victims, a non-combatant and son of a member of the state legislature, was believed dying today from a wound suffered when a stray bullet struck him in the eye.

The youth is William Barrardducci, 19, state house page and son of State Representative Vincent J. Barrarducci.

ENTIRE COUNTRY HONORS ITS HEROIC DEAD IN RELIGIOUS AND MILITARY RITES TODAY

THE nation today, in religious services and military spectacles, honored those who have given their lives in the nation's wars.
A two hour service in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, with President Hoover as the principal speaker, was outstanding among the hundreds of Memorial Day observances. Two national networks carried the ceremonies throughout the country to radio listeners.

100 Perish In Fire Near Siberia

TOKIO, May 30.—(UP)— More than 100 persons, including 40 school children, were reported today to have perished in the terrific and uncontrollable forest fire which has been raging on Saghalin island for the last four days.

Thousands of the inhabitants of the island off the coast of Siberia were homeless as a result of the conflagration, which was still raging. Several townships were threatened, according to latest reports.

L. A. AVIATOR SETS ENDURANCE RECORD

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—Another new air record has been added to the string already recorded in various parts of the country this week.

Lieut. Herbert Fahy brought his Lockheed-Vega monoplane to rest here last night after remaining in the air 36 hours, 56 minutes and 36 seconds. This was two hours longer than the old mark for solo, non-refueling in air flights.

Fahy's gasoline supply was exhausted when he coasted to a perfect dead stick landing.

It was the fifth record claimed this week. The monoplane Fort Worth established a new mark for refueling in air at Fort Worth, Texas.

A new altitude record for women was claimed by Miss Marvel Croson here.

At East St. Louis, Ill., Barney
Zimmerman claimed two records for planes of approximately 800 pounds, asserting he flew his monoplane to an altitude of 25,190 feet, which would break two previous marks for various types of light planes.

Government Sues Semon Estate For $14,419 In Taxes

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)
—Continuing its relentless campaign against motion picture stars for alleged false income tax returns, the government had on file today a lien for $14,419.97 against the estate of Larry Semon, once a well known screen comedian.

Semon died several months ago.
The lien was for additional taxes for 1922.

Dorothy Dwan, Semon's widow and former leading lady for Tom Mix, has just returned to Hollywood after visiting relatives in Warrensburg, Mo.

—An extra session of the legislature will be called if needed to keep Arizona free from the fruit fly pest, Gov. John C. Phillips had assured a mass meeting of 200 Arizona fruit and vegetable growers today.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT ARLINGTON

Calls Upon Nations to Aid In Bringing About In World State of Peace

STIRRING PLEA MADE

Kellogg Anti-war Pact Is Lauded In Talk Before Unknown Soldier Tomb

WASHINGTON, May 30.— (UP)—Standing at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, President Hoover again called upon the nations of the world today for immediate steps toward the reduction of naval armaments.

"We must clothe faith and idealism with action," the president said in his Memorial day speech in Arlington National cemetery.

An earnest plea for the co-operation of all powers in the development of "instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment" was the keynote of the address, which echoed the deathless sentiment of Lincoln's Gettysburg address—"that these dead shall not have died in vain."

In his address at Arlington National cemetery, today, President Hoover spoke as follows:

"Fellow countrymen:
"Over the years since the Civil war, the Grand Army of the Republic have conducted this sacred ceremony in memorial of those who died in service of their country. The ranks of their living comrades have been steadily thinned with time. But other wars have reaped their harvest of sacrifice and those dead, too, lie buried here. Their living comrades now join in conduct of this memorial, thaa it may be carried forward when the noble men who today represent the last of the Grand Army shall have joined those already in the great beyond.

"This sacred occasion has impelled our presidents to express their aspirations in furtherance of peace. No more appropriate tribute can be paid to our heroic dead than to stand in the presence of their resting places and pledge renewed effort that these sacrifices shall not be claimed again.

SCHOOL PETITIONS READY IN AUGUST

COSTA MESA, May 30.—A resolution passed at a meeting last night of those interested in the formation of a harbor high school district provides for the circulation of petitions for this purpose as soon as a recent legislative act, which gives authority for the forming of such a district, becomes a law, August 14.

The sentiment of those present at the meeting was in favor of the establishment of a harbor high school, it was said this morning by Donald Dodge, who acted as chairman.

In an informal discussion of the matter, it was brought out that 200 high school pupils are now residents of the harbor district. The district can vote $250,000 bonds for the erection of buildings and spend as much for operation and maintenance as the Tus-tin high school, which is $65-000, without increasing the present rate of taxation, it was said.

The location of the high school should be as central as possible for Newport Beach and Costa Mesa pupils, it was declared.

HOOVER PLEADS FOR PEACE AT SOLDIER TOMB

ties and new systems of warfare are being added to those that even so recently spread death and desolation over the whole continent of Europe. Despite those lessons every government continues to increase and perfect its armament. And while this progress is being made in the development of the science of warfare, the serious question arises—are we making equal progress in devising ways and means to avoid those frightful fruits of men's failures that have blotted with blood so many chapters of the world's history?

"There is a great hope, for since this day a year ago, a solemn declaration has been proposed by America to the world and has been signed by forty nations. It states that they solemnly declare in the name of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another."

"They agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

"That is a declaration that spring from the aspirations and hearts of men and women throughout the world. It is a solemn covenant to which the great nations of the world have bound themselves.

"But notwithstanding this noble assurance, preparedness for war still advances steadily in every land. As a result the pessimist calls this covenant a pious expression of foreign offices, a trick of statesmen on the hopes of humanity, for which we and other nations will be held responsible without reserve. With this view I cannot agree."

"But, if this agreement is to fulfill its high purpose, we and other nations must accept its consequences: we must clothe faith and idealism with action. That action must march with the inexorable tread of common sense and realism to accomplishment."

"If this declaration really represents the aspirations of peoples; if this covenant be genuine proof that the world has renounced war as an instrument of national policy, it means at once an abandonment of the aggressive use of arms by every signatory nation and becomes a sincere declaration that all armament hereafter shall be used only for defense. Consequently, if we are honest we must reconsider our own naval armament and the armaments of the world in the light of their defensive and not their aggressive use. Our navy is the first, and, in the world sense, the only important factor in our national preparedness. It is a powerful part of the arms of the world."

"To make ready for defense is a primary obligation upon every statesman and adequate preparedness is an assurance against aggression. But, if we are to earnestly predicate our views upon renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy, if we are to set standards that naval strength is purely for defense and not for aggression, then the strength in fighting ships required by nations is but relative to that of other powers. All nations assent to this—that defensive needs of navies are relative. Moreover, other nations concede our contention for parity. With these principles before us our problem is to secure agreement among nations that we shall march together toward reductions in naval equipment."

"Despite the declarations of the Kellogg pact, every important country has since the signing of that agreement been engaged in strengthening its naval arm. We are still borne on the tide of competitive building. Fear and suspicion disappear but slowly from the world. Democracies can only be led to undertake the burdens of increasing naval construction by continued appeal to fear, by constant envisaging of possible conflict, by stimulated imaginings of national dangers, by glorification of war. Fear and suspicion will never slacken unless we can halt competitive construction of arms. They will never disappear unless we can turn this tide toward actual reductions."

"But to arrive at any agreement through which we can, marching in company with our brother nations, secure reduction of armament, we must find a rational yardstick with which to make reasonable comparisons of their naval units with ours and thus maintain an agreed relative. So far the world has failed to find such a yardstick. So say that such a measure cannot be found is the counsel of despair. It is a challenge to the naval authorities of the world, it is the condensation of the world to the sisyphian toil of competitive armaments."

"The present administration of the United States has undertaken to approach this vital problem with a new program. We feel that it is useless for us to talk of the limitation of arms if such limitations are to be set so high as virtually to be an indictment to increase armament. The idea of limitations of arms has served a useful purpose. It made possible conferences in which the facts about national aspirations could be discussed, frankly in an atmosphere of friendliness and conciliation. Likewise the facts of the mechanical problems involved, and the relative values of varying national needs have been clarified by patient comparison of expert opinions."

"But still the not result has been the building of more fighting ships, therefore we believe the time has come when we must know whether the pact we have signed is real, whether we are condemned to further and more extensive programs of naval construction. Limitation upward is not now our goal, but actual reduction of existing commitments to lowered levels. "Such a program, if it is achieved, is fraught with endless blessings. The smaller the armed force of the world, the less will armed force be left in the minds of men as an instrument of national policy. The smaller the armed forces of the world, the less will be the number of men withdrawn from the creative and productive labors. Thus we shall relieve the toilers of the nations of the deadening burden of unproductive expenditures, and above all, we shall deliver them from the greatest of human calamities—fear. We shall breathe an air cleared of poison, of destructive thought and of potential war."

"But the pact that we have signed by which we renounce war as an instrument of national policy, by which we agree to settle all conflicts, of whatever nature, by pacific means, implies more than the reduction of arms to a basis of simple defense. It implies that nations

THIRTY-THREE CARS START IN ANNUAL RACE

Hepburn, are among the best in the country.

Duray has what is believed to be the fastest car in the country. Although he was driving it at a speed approaching 130 miles an hour in tests before the race he did not run through his qualifying heat fast enough to gain the pole position. Woodbury took the pole at a speed of slightly more than 121 miles an hour and Duray was surprised that his car had not averaged 125.

The pole is worth thousands of dollars if a driver can hold it, since the winner of each lap receives $100. There is no driver today who will take more chances than Duray, and the approximately 150,000 people who were expected to see the race looked forward to a great fight between Woodbury and Leon for the front position immediately after the start.

Known as the greatest "turn" man in the country Duray probably will attempt to take Woodbury on the southwest turn of the second lap and the crowd was anticipating a hair raising scene.

Although 35 drivers complied with the qualifying rules (ten miles at a speed of more than 90 miles an hour) only 33 started, since the A. A. A. has ruled that 33 cars are all that safely can race here. Every driver who started averaged more than 100 miles an hour in his qualifying heat.

The race began at 10 a. m., (C. S. T.) and probably will be over around 3 p. m. It was expected that a speed of approximately 100 miles an hour would be maintained during the first 100 miles, with slightly less than that for the remainder of the race. The winner will receive approximately $20,000 of which $20,000 is the outright first prize and the remainder the aggregate of accessory prizes given by various firms. This in addition to the $100 lap prizes. Last year Duray made $7000 before relinquishing the lead.

Duray turned the first lap of two and one-half miles in 1:22.10, an average of 109.622 miles per hour, which was fine time for the starting lap.

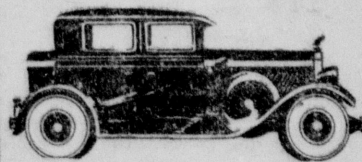

Ralph Hepburn, whose qualifying time gave him one of the positions in the front row, received a tough break when his motor died just as the pacemaking car started rolling. The men rushed out and pushed the car for a hundred yards down the track until the motor finally started again, but Hepburn had lost the choice position.

Cliff Bergere also was late in getting started because of motor trouble, his engine refusing to will conduct their daily intercourse in keeping with the spirit of that agreement. It implies that we shall endeavor to develop those instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment that will enable us to remove disputes from the field of emotion to the field of calm and judicial consideration.

"It is fitting that we should give voice to these deepest aspirations of the American people, in this place. "These dead whom we have gathered here today to honor, these valiant and unselfish souls who have given life itself in service of their ideals, evoke from us the most solemn mood of consecration. They died that peace should be established. Our obligation is to see it maintained. Nothing less than our equal courage to the ideal of our day will serve to manifest our gratitude for their sacrifices, our undying memory of their deeds, our emulation of their glorious example."

ORONITE CLEANING FLUID CLEANS AUTOMOBILE UPHOLSTERY

When I slip off this mortal coil, they won't say, "Well, that guy was a very popular watchmaker," even if they do say nice things of the departed but there is a bunch of them that wind their way upstairs, that will have to admit that my interest in them and their watch doesn't diminish as soon as I have tickled the cash register.

work and after pushing the car for two hundred yards pit men pushed it to the side and finally got it started.

Duray's "breakneck" driving on the turns kept the crowd on its feet during the early part of the race.

Leon apparently was determined to hold his first position as long as possible without consideration for his car. The winner of each lap receives $100 and Duray apparently was doing the same thing he did last year when he took the early lead and made almost $6000 in lap prizes before relinquishing it.

Deacon Litz quered Duray's plans on the ninth lap when he cut in front of him on a turn and took the lead.

Cliff Woodbury, one of the favorites to win, cracked up on the northeast turn early in the race. This was a hair raising crash. Woodbury was uninjured, but his car was damaged so badly that it could not continue in the race.

BODY OF MURDERED MAN FOUND IN LOT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—(UP)—Believed to have been "taken for a ride" by gangsters, the body of a young man known as Edward Prouty was found in a vacant lot here today.

Police said the man had been shot through the heart and apparently thrown from an automobile. Near the body lay a white pillow, the only clue found by detectives.

Death had occurred but a short time before the body was discovered by a policeman and the man had died instantaneously, according to a coroner's report. A clinic card from San Francisco hospital, found in the dead man's clothes, bore the name of "Edward Prouty."

Buried Treasure Promoter Delays S. F. Court Trial

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—(UP)—Return to San Francisco of Dr. Armand Karl Graves, promoter of a buried treasure hunt, was delayed today by the setting over until June 3 of Graves' hearing on a writ of habeas corpus.

Graves was arrested on request of Henry Kirchmann, San Francisco lumberman, who said the self-styled international sky got $3500 from him on the buried plunder hunt.

LINDBERGH AND HIS BRIDE STILL HIDE

NEW YORK, May 30.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride started their third day of the hide and seek game they are playing with the press and public, victors at every turn.

Today vigilance was relaxed at many points on the strength of a rumor that the flier and the former Anne Spencer Morrow were at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., having returned secretly after their departure Monday afternoon.

Spokesmen for the Morrow family refused to comment upon the report.

Another clue that yielded no definite information was the finding of a note in a Falcon plane that was flown to Schenectady at the same time Lindbergh's ship was taken there. After the Falcon was landed at Curtiss airport, Valley Stream, Long Island, yesterday this note was found in it:

"Congratulations, old man, and good luck. Ship runs fairly hot. Add nothing but crestone. There is one gallon in the baggage compartment. Everything else O. K."

The message was signed "Pick," who was believed to be George Pickinpack, a friend of Lindbergh who brought the plane from Schenectady. Crestone is cooling liquid for airplane motors.

PLACENTIA HEARS SPEECH ON WATER

PLACENTIA, May 30.—Members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce received first hand information on the water conservation and flood control project from Paul Bailey, water engineer, at their weekly session Tuesday.

Bailey described the water project in detail to his audience and following his talk County Supervisors Willard Smith, William Schumacher and C. H. Chapman spoke briefly.

Forty-eight members were present at the session.

and shock as a result of a collision at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Fourth and Terminal streets, when the car in which she was a passenger, and which was driven by O. R. Parham, Irvine, was struck by a truck. The report of the accident, filed at the sheriff's office by Parham, gave the cause of the crash as failure to see the signal of the truck driver. Miss Parham's injuries were treated by a Santa Ana physician before she was taken to her home.

Demonstration On Scaly Bark To Be Conducted June 5

Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg announced today that a demonstration of methods of scaly bark control will be held on June 5. Two meetings have been scheduled, one for 10 a. m. in the C. G. Dowd grove, on the corner of First and Lyon streets, Tustin; and the second at 2 p. m. in the George Allen grove, at the corner of East and Santa Ana streets.

Methods of scaly bark control, including scraping and disinfecting, will be shown as it is handled on a commercial basis. Trees on which scaly bark is too far advanced for treatment will be discussed. Control of snails, which recently have become somewhat of a problem in citrus orchards, will be demonstrated. The poison used and methods of applying it will be shown. The demonstrations will be given in co-operation with the horticultural department, which will be represented by Deputy Commissioner W. H. Wright.

TWO ARE INJURED AS CAR OVERTURNS

ANAHEIM, May 30.—Miss Mary Toth, 1305 Arrowhead avenue, San Bernardino, and A. W. Chambers, 1334 Arrowhead avenue, of the same city were injured when the car in which they were driving overturned in the Santa Ana canyon at 6:10 this morning. They were brought to the Johnson-Wickett clinic here for treatment.

Miss Toth, who is in the Anaheim sanitarium, was hurt about the chest, but the exact extent of her injuries had not been determined this morning. Chambers was cut about the face and head, but his condition was not considered serious.

The man and woman were brought here by Henry Wilmer, D. C. Cleland and L. E. Van Horn, of Pomona, who witnessed the accident.

ARRANGE VISIT TO PROPOSED DAM SITE

Sponsored by the Orange County Farm bureau, a tour to the site of the proposed dam on the Santa Ana river will take place on June 22. It was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. The tour has been arranged so that everyone interested may have an opportunity to view the location of the proposed structure and learn details of plans for its construction. Paul Bailey, flood control engineer for this district, will be at the site to explain its features and to answer questions regarding the flood control and water conservation program. The group will leave Olive at 9:30 a. m. will meet a party at the Yorba bridge and will arrive at the damsite at 10 a. m.

Shrubs Will Be Planted At Mesa

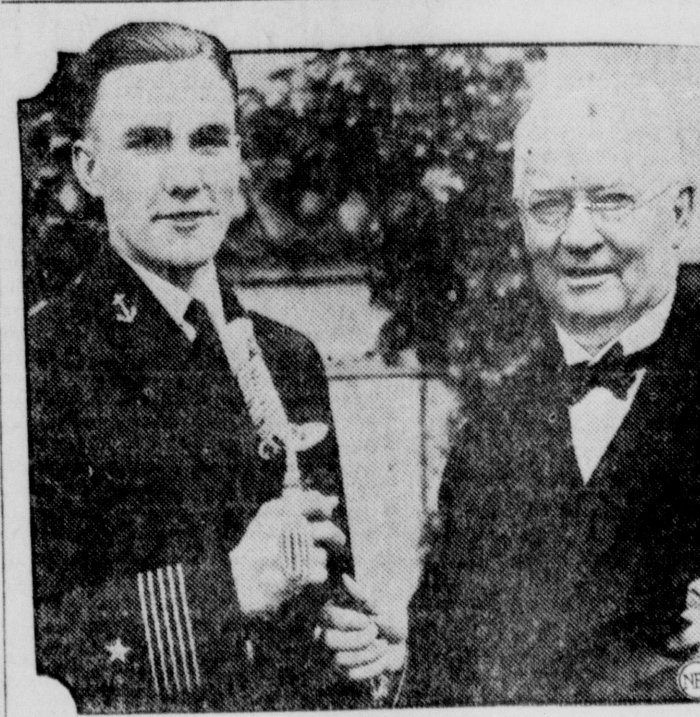

COSTA MESA, May 30.—The Highway Beautification association met in R. G. Chambers' real estate office this week, with Fred Opp, general chairman, presiding. Plans are being furthered to continue the water pipe to the south section and also to put water on the other sections.

Shrubs suitable to this locality will be planted along the highway.

The organization will meet each month and suggestions and donations will be acceptable at all times.

NAVAL ACADEMY'S FINEST

From one midshipman to another! Because he has the highest scholastic and military rating at the U. S. Naval academy, Midshipman Charles Edward Trescott, left, of Girard, O., received this dress sword from the hands of Capt. C. H. Harlow, of the graduating class of 1879. Captain Harlow is one of the 16 survivors of his class, which makes this presentation an annual event. Trescott is the only "five-striper" at Annapolis.

M'HUGH, COLEMAN LOOM AS FINALISTS

DEL MONTE, May 30.—Johnny McHugh, of San Francisco, and Fay Coleman, of Los Angeles, today appeared destined to clash eventually for the California amateur golf championship.

McHugh and Coleman, who tied for medalist honors in the qualifying rounds, both eliminated their opponents of match play yesterday at the 13th hole.

WESTMINSTER, May 30.—Forty-four out of a pen of 70 Rhode Island chickens seven weeks old were stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falck this week. The 26 remaining chicks were found outside the pen in the morning.

Malcewicz Beats Grappler Stasiak

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—Joe Malcewicz, although lacking the poundage of heavy Stanley Stasiak, threw the latter in two spectacular falls here last night. Joe took the first fall with a body slam after an hour and four minutes and Stasiak was so badly shaken he could last but 54 seconds in the second fall.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Memorial day leaders are often pennant winners and baseball fans today speculated over a possible All-Pennsylvania world series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Athletics hold a 3½ game lead over the St. Louis Browns in the American league and the Pirates, in first place for the first time since 1927, hold a game lead over the Chicago Cubs in the National league.

Four of the six clubs which were in front during the past three seasons have won the pennants. The Yankees led on Memorial day in 1926, 1927 and 1928 and won the pennant each year. The Pirates were ahead on Memorial day 1927 and won the National league pennant that season. The Cincinnati Reds twice have failed to win the National league pennant in the last three years after leading on Memorial day.

The club which has shown the most improvement ever last season's standing at this date is the Phillies. They were in last place a year ago with a percentage of .189. Today finds them in fourth place with a percentage of .515—an improvement of .326 points.

ORANGE COUNTY BAR TO INDORSE MARKS

A special meeting of the Orange County Bar association has been called for tomorrow to indorse the movement for appointment of Superior Judge E. J. Marks as one of the three justices to sit on the bench of the new district court of appeals having jurisdiction over Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and San Diego counties.

The new fifth district court is provided in a bill now on the desk of Gov. C. C. Young awaiting his signature. A number of friends of Judge Marks have been furthering his candidacy for the position. Tomorrow's meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. in department one of the superior court.

GROVE MAN HURT
GARDEN GROVE, May 30.—Conrad Oertly is confined at his home on Euclid avenue with several broken ribs, following an accident which occurred late Monday afternoon. Mr. Oertly was helping tea down an old building on the H. Bodenhamer ranch, when one of the beams fell on him and knocked him to the ground. He was pinned underneath for several minutes until he was rescued. Besides the broken ribs he was badly bruised.

GIRLS ARE TRICKED INTO AUTO BUT RELEASED WHEN TEARS FRIGHTEN ALLEGED ABDUCTOR

Induced by the promise of a stranger to pay them each a nickel for getting in his car and looking after his little boy, two 6-year-old girls, Marjorie Baker, 1500 Dresser street, and her next door playmate, Grace Paulson, were taken on an enforced ride about Santa Ana yesterday that lasted nearly half an hour before the man, evidently becoming apprehensive because of the tears of one of the children, let them out of the car near the place where he had picked them up.

While the girls were playing on the corner of Dresser and Fifteenth streets, near the corner of the curb nearby, talked to the awhile, according to W. J. Julian, 928 Cypress street, who was working on a lot at the corner and who witnessed the start of the trip. The girls said he offered them the money to get in the car and watch his little boy while he left the car. But when they entered the car there was no other child there and the man got in and started the auto.

On Sixteenth street, between Spurgeon and French streets, the man transferred the girls to the back seat and fixed the side curtain after one of them started crying. A short time later he let them out of the car at the corner of Fifteenth and French streets, giving each of the girls a penny, according to the report made by Chief of Detectives Sid Smithwick and Officer Harry Fink, who investigated. No attempt to harm the girls was made, according to their story, reported by the officers.

Descriptions of the man and his car were obtained from the girls, Julian and another man, who saw the car when it stopped. The officers also were successful in obtaining tread marks of the tires.

HANDWORK OF JUVENILE HOME GIRLS ON SALE

A few weeks ago it was announced that an assortment of hand-made articles, completed by the young girls of the Orange county juvenile home, was to be placed on sale in the F. C. Blauer store, 425 North Sycamore street, and in the intervening time the display has attracted the attention of many persons, who found desirable articles of needlework at a nominal price. All of which gives added interest to the fact that today an even larger assortment of handwork is available at the store, since Mrs. Arthur Dawson, matron of the home, and Mrs. Mae Cuddeback, girls' matron, have added new pieces to replace those already sold, all of them representing the painstaking work of the young girls.

The teaching of needlework and homecraft to the young girls of the home was introduced long ago as a part of the daily routine, but it was not until a year ago that Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Cuddeback conceived the idea of allowing the girls to sell the finished articles and purchase new materials with the money received.

Matrons Bought Materials
Previous to that, the matrons had been buying the materials themselves and using anything that came to hand. In planning the first sale, they had the friendly cooperation of F. C. Blauer, who generously gave them space in his store and supervised the sale of the articles. Many of the young needlewomen had never had any previous instruction whatever and a needle was an implement as foreign to their habits and knowledge as an airplane. No better evidence of their progress could be desired than the present assortment, in which both handwork and machine work show a skill that seems quite amazing to those who know the adverse conditions under which Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Cuddeback have labored.

Interest in the project is as keen as ever on the part of Blauer and he has placed the collection at such a point in his store that it commands attention from either the Sycamore or the Fifth street entrance and delegated to his sales force the duty of selling the wares as cheerfully as though they meant a financial gain to himself instead of merely the knowledge that he is helping in a worthy cause.

As for the articles themselves—they offer a wide variety from the attractive cover-all aprons which a housewife would like to don while preparing her daily three meals, to the attractive lines for her table, buffet or dresser.

Children Not Forgotten
Nor are the children forgotten, for the cunningest of little bib aprons are adorned with bunnies and biddies and pretty little girls in applied colors or outline stitch, while crib sets of spread and pillow are really adorable in their colored borders and pretty child or animal designs.

Guest towels with embroidered ends, pillow cases with crocheted edges in elaborate design, braided rag rugs for kitchen or bathroom floor, clothespin aprons and hot-dish holders with embroidered design are a few of the articles on display, while cushions and pillows in the popular patchwork or in daintier embroidery for boudoir use are present in infinite variety.

And the beauty of it all is that a price so low that anyone would feel justified in buying has been placed on every article. For Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Cuddeback expect no profit for the young workers, asking only that the articles sell for enough to replace the materials used and Mr. Blauer handles everything without a cent of profit for himself. He plans to maintain the table as a permanent part of his store, allowing the free use of it to the juvenile home for the needlework as it is completed.

ON MEMORY DAY
 Think not of them as dead whose forms have passed into their native sphere of dust and clay.
 'Tis now they live—in peace, content at last,
 While we with reverent hearts keep Memory Day.
 Why longer mourn for souls released to grow from earth's false shackles—sorrow, sin and pain?
 Why longer muse—and dreaming fail to know the joyous blessings that they now attain?
 Aught is there left but virtues carved in stone
 Around the flower-decked tomb where comrades sleep:
 Naught but the idol stands—we pray alone,
 For those thought dead, but living, now we weep.
 Death but reveals the truth that spirit's goal
 Is triumph over earth's vain power to give;
 Awake, and in communion with thy soul
 Stand fast! They are not dead, they live!
 Whatever you may or may not think of this bit of verse, it's not much consolation to us when we think how many of you will clip it out and put it into the family Bible where it will be too seldom seen again.

THOSE WHO HAVE THEIR TRIALS USUALLY HAVE THEIR TRIBULATIONS.

We'll wager Lindy can also make a non-stop flight across the sea of matrimony.

It must be great to be a farmer—always waiting to see whether Congress or nature is going to bring the more relief.

Even "Beer For the Poor Man" has lost its effect as a campaign slogan. There aren't enough poor men.

"What this country needs in legal reform," says old "Crypt" Lenny, a new member of THE FUMIGATOR family, "is a condition where a poor lawyer and good evidence is worth as much as poor evidence and a good lawyer."

"FABLE-FLASHES" (Hot off the wire)

BOLONEY, Spain, May 29.—An investigation completed here shows that the Graf Zeppelin's motors stopped just as the ship's nose was heading toward The Bermudas. Those motors knew their onions.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A lot of unconfirmed gossip is buzzing around the nation's capital concerning the "equal rights" clause of the federal constitution, and due largely to the jailing of Harry Sinclair for refusing to talk, Old-timers here remember back a few years ago when a man didn't talk much, and he became so popular they elected him President.

The Medfly has now reached Texas, and we wouldn't be surprised at any time to hear that it is in Arkansas, because Arkansas claims to raise everything that ever is raised any place else.

This space is reserved to say something funny about the flood control election. But nothing funny can be said, it's too serious.

L. B. MITCHELL SELECTED TO SUCCEED W. S. KELLOGG AS FRANCES WILLARD PRINCIPAL

Appointment of Lyle B. Mitchell, boys' counselor in the Willard school in 1925 and 1926. He then went to the Julia Lathrop junior high school, where he remained for two years preceding his appointment as boys' counselor. During his last year in the Lathrop school Mitchell was active in class work in the morning and on attendance work in the afternoon.

He holds an M. A. degree from the University of California. His success in his educational work has fitted him admirably for the new position which he will occupy, it is said. Mitchell is the son of R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

Court Notes

The Owl Fumigating corporation today had brought suit against B. H. Hackler and Ben Aldrich seeking judgment for $402. The complaint said this amount represented a promissory note on which payments had not been made.

Seeking to quiet title to Orange county property, James and Gussie Conrad today had brought suit against J. D. Hawk and C. E. Laverling.

Walter and Nettie Allsman, who were found guilty on burglary charges, will have probation hearings in superior court tomorrow. They were found guilty of burglarizing the C. J. Rowland home, on Buero road.

Nine cases on five traffic charges were entered by Judge Talbot in city court yesterday afternoon. Of these, speeding and overtime parking tied for first place in number. On the speeding counts Charles Gindin was fined $15, while Robert G. Brown and Albert J. Ambling, both of Orange, were certified to juvenile court for trial because they were both under 18. Fines of $2 each were assessed against W. A. Cook, Clyde Bowman and Bill Gonzales on the parking count. Similar fines were levied by the court on Mrs. E. C. Foster for leaving a car parked between 2 and 3 a. m., A. V. Garritia for parking in a restricted district and Elmer Gates on a charge of operating a car with an open cutout.

William C. Bernard today was defendant in a suit brought by the Adjustment corporation, which is seeking judgment for $249.30 on a promissory note and $140.10 alleged to be due as money expended by the plaintiff for the defendant. The case was transferred to superior court here from the municipal court of Los Angeles.

Lizzie J. Wood, of Fullerton, had tidoned the superior court today to recognize three sons of the late Franklin P. Wood, who died May 19, as heirs to certain portions of the property in his estate and to determine that certain parts of the estate were separated prop-

Wood, Long Beach; Chester C. Wood, San Pedro, and Malcolm O. Wood, Fullerton, were the heirs mentioned in the petition.

The Western Loan and Building company today had brought suit against Vivian M. Cole, James C. Cole and others, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Orange county property, alleged to be security for a $2500 promissory note on which it was asserted that there had been a default in payments.

The case of Alvin Peralta, charged with non-support, was continued for six months when it came up before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

This Week's Games
Olive at Santa Ana.
Garden Grove at Anaheim.
Huntington Beach at Orange.
Garden Grove at Long Beach (Tuesday).

Every ball team, no matter how good, gets into a batting slump now and then. The champions shake it off, the tailenders can't. Santa Ana's Stars, defending champions of Southern California night baseball, were in a rut a week ago. They couldn't get the ball out of the infield. For that reason they lost to their old enemy, Anaheim, and were lucky to pull through a couple of exhibition tussles. The management, obviously worried, began looking around the city for somebody who could smack the agate on the nostrils.

Then the Stars began to hit again. They broke loose all at once in the game at Huntington Beach, scoring eight times in two little innings, and they kept on meeting the ball savagely in a practice brush at Corona Tuesday, so all was serene within the champions' ranks today.

Olive Real Contender
Santa Ana will have another hard row to hoe tomorrow night when it swings into action against Olive here. The Gateway City representatives are acting strangely like a championship cast. They have been getting some flossy fling from Freddy Guenther and Al Heman and nothing has been wrong with their batting. They are tied with Santa Ana in the percentage columns now and if they lick the Stars in the Bowl they will be more than just a threat. They will be fully as dangerous as Anaheim or Long Beach.

This is the first year Olive has been a genuine pennant contender and the fans up that way are all steamed up with championship hopes. They will invade the Bowl en masse tomorrow night. The attendance should be a big one because nobody ever has accused Santa Ana of failing to support the Stars.

Merrill Leads Hitters
"Rosie" Merrill, outfielder, has taken the play away from "Memphy" Hill and Bill Fouts and now is leading the Santa Ana club in individual hitting. Merrill rapped out four blows in the Huntington Beach game and climbed up to .392 while Hill, who was leader with an average of .412, has dropped to .390, which, however, still entitles him to second place. Darwin Scott, always a strong batsman, is in third place with a mark of .375.

Averages for all games to date follow:

	AB	R	H	Avg.
Merrill	33	7	13	.394
Hill	41	9	16	.390
Fouts	40	9	15	.375
Scott	35	6	13	.371
Schuchardt	39	6	13	.333
Cole	33	4	9	.273
Stockbridge	27	5	6	.222
Ochoa	27	2	6	.222
Preble	33	5	7	.212

Wilcox	34	9	7	.206

PETE'S PA SAYS "MALEY"
"Carlo's father came into my dressing room before the fight. He felt my leg and arm muscles and announced that his Pete wouldn't fight me that night. The promoter tried to get me another match but couldn't and when the old man saw he was asked: 'Wassa mat?' I told him that Pete had refused to fight me and he said: 'Why you no lick da hell out of him in the dressing room?'"

That ended my career as a pug. I went on working at the iron works and kept playing baseball with the Golden Gate Natives until 1927, when, just as I was about to become a regular ballplayer, Tim Harrington, a friend, induced Duffy Lewis, manager of the Salt Lake City club of the Pacific Coast League, to give me a trial. That started me in professional baseball and here I am. But I still carry my card in the ballplayers' union."

WHEELER FEATURES CHECKERS TOURNEY

The annual Orange county checker tournament has just been completed at the new quarters of the Tourists' club on West Walnut street, where the players assemble every Thursday night at 7:30.

Wheeler, of Orange, proved the undoubted class of the group, losing but one game to Jennings, of Santa Ana, and allowing but few draws. Jennings and Henderson, also of this city, were both consistent.

Shell, of Garden Grove, and Smith, of Orange, got off to a four-win start, but were unable to complete the series. Honeycutt, of Huntington Beach, would have added interest and competition if conditions had permitted his entry.

In Wheeler, Orange county has a player who is recognized as one of the best in the state, ranking with Fuller, of Pomona, the present young state champion, or D'Orto or Dougherty of national prominence.

FORMER CHAMPIONS DIDN'T TRY TO PROTECT THEIR TITLES WITH TRICK AGREEMENTS IN ADVANCE

By ROBERT EDGREN

And champions used to fight to see which was the better man!

They used to fight winner take all, including a side bet. They were content to really "risk" their titles. They didn't want a contract on the side that would protect them from possible loss and reward them from being licked. In fact if one of the old-time champions, like John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons or James J. Jeffries had been accused of making fight terms in the 1929 fashion they promptly would have walloped their accuser on the nose.

SANTA ANA TO HAVE COMPLETE GRID SCHEDULE

With the exception of October 19, when the high school goes to Long Beach and the junior college is at Compton, Poly field will be the scene of a football game every Saturday during the 1929 season according to schedules just announced.

The Dons will play four conference contests here and the Saints three, and between them they will offer local residents the Los Angeles Coliseum as a preliminary to one of the Trojan varsity battles.

The Saints probably will meet Orange high school and some Los Angeles city school, perhaps Hollywood, on September 23 and October 5, respectively. The Orange contest is virtually certain as Coach Stewart White already has entered into negotiations with Oliver. The Orangemen expect to have a strong club and they would be a fine drawing card for the Saints' season curtain-raiser. There is a possibility that one, perhaps both, of the preliminary games will be played at night under artificial illumination.

The Poly field schedule, bare of proposed practice engagements, follows:

October 12—Santa Ana junior college vs. San Bernardino junior college.
October 19—No game here. High school team at Long Beach; junior college at Compton.
October 26—Santa Ana high school vs. Alhambra high school.
November 2—Santa Ana junior college vs. Riverside junior college.
November 9 or 11—Santa Ana junior college vs. Glendale junior college.
November 16—Santa Ana high school vs. Glendale high school.
November 23—Santa Ana high school vs. San Diego high school.
November 28—Santa Ana junior college vs. Fullerton junior college.

Local Women Golfers Improve Fast

Women golfers of the Santa Ana Country club continue to show improvement in their scores. Mrs. C. V. Doty being the latest to break 100. Mrs. Doty shot two 49's for an aggregate of 98 this week.

Mrs. A. G. Flagg, with 43-54, also recently went into the charmed circle with a total of 97.

Mrs. J. K. McDonald, wife of the club president, holds the course record for women with her 89. Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth and Mrs. B. J. MacMullen both have even 90's to their credit.

FULLERTON IS ORANGE LEAGUE BALL CHAMPION

Fullerton high school today had possession of the Orange league's baseball championship for the fourth straight year.

The Indians successfully defended their oft-won title by defeating Huntington Beach, 9 to 0, in the closing contest of the conference season at Fullerton yesterday.

Coach E. Y. Johnson's outfit will meet Inglewood, Bay league winners, at Fullerton Saturday for the right to play the champion of the Coast League, probably San Diego, in what will unofficially amount to a Southern California titular game.

Greer, stellar Huntington Beach southpaw, who was able to baffie

McElheny, one of Fullerton's many star moundsmen, yielded only four safeties and was never in trouble. The score:

Huntington Beach..... 9 10 3
Fullerton..... 0 1 0

Batteries: Huntington Beach—Greer, Mullins and Bush; Fullerton—McElheny and Hersberger.

GARDEN GROVE DEFEATS TUSTIN, 8 TO 7

Garden Grove completed its Orange league baseball season by winning from Tustin, 8 to 7, in a see-saw game at Garden Grove yesterday. Both sides collected 10 bingles and used two pitchers. National and Messerall toiling for the Chilpeppers and Cooper and Pratt for the Ranchers.

LONG STOPS NEAR

WILMINGTON, May 30.—Charley Long ended a scheduled ten-round main event in the second round here last night when he knocked out Bobby Near.

S. A. FANS SEE 33 ROUNDS OF RING BATTLING

"Bubber" Johnson, Los Angeles colored welterweight, scored an unconvincing victory over John McGroarty in the grand finale of 10 bouts at the Orange County Athletic club here last night.

"Bubber" didn't have much to say about the outcome of his contest, but he probably was happier over the outcome of his club promoter, was over the turn-out to his "bargain bill" of scheduled rounds. The impending holiday and other things probably cut into the crowd which on about half filled the southside arena but it also was a fact that there was almost too much boxing for one night.

The bouts lasted 33 rounds, only three of the 10 failing to go to the maximum distance.

Johnson Disappoints
Johnson was disappointing against McGroarty. He didn't appear to be "bearing down" in the first three rounds but he finished with a typical Johnson flourish to shade his veteran opponent and gain the nod of Referee John Schiffl, who, incidentally, was off color last night, calling a couple of them wrong. Joe Rivers, one time contender for the world lightweight title, worked the first five and Schiffl the last five.

Aurelio Mision and Melvin Bolt put on a carefully rehearsed semi-windup that had the fans in a happy mood. Mision beat the "dark cloud of joy" to the punch and hit him plenty, but Bolt just showed his gold teeth, stamped the floor and kept going.

Eddie Lozano decisively outpointed Eddie Lozano.

Hill Gill and Young Terry went to a draw. It was an awkward bout.

Bridges Wins But Loses

Bobby Bridges beat Bert Hubbard all the way but Schiffl thought Hubbard won. It was a miserable decision.

Jesse Gabuco beat K. O. Gonzales on the rug for keeps in the first round, one of the three matches that didn't go the route.

Al Cruise stopped "Mexican Tommy" O'Brien in the first round with a series of blows as close quarters. Cruise looks like a world beater when he is winning.

Chiff Burrier scored a technical knockout over the veteran Frank Echeverra who bled profusely.

John Chismas refused to lean and only got a draw with "Tiger" Napoleon. He should have won in a walk.

Louis Medina won by a mile from Eagle Thomas in the first bout.

GOVERNMENT STOPS MANDELL-KAPLIN GO

CHICAGO, May 30.—The 10-round bout scheduled between Sam Mandell and Louis Kaplan for tomorrow night at the Chicago stadium has been postponed along with other fights on the card, because the U. S. government took charge of Promoter James Mullin's ticket office.

The government claimed Mullin owed $40,000 in taxes on previous fights and when the box office opened federal collectors were on hand to take over the receipts.

Malone Outpoints Yarbo In Oakland

OAKLAND, May 30.—Jock Malone, veteran St. Paul fighter, took all but one round and won a 10 round decision over Wilson Yarbo, Cleveland Negro, in their bout here last night. Yarbo floored Malone for an eight count in the first round but Malone came back and took the remaining nine heats with ease. In the semi-windup, Stewart McLean and Mike Watters fought to a draw.

Midge Gladman Will Invade East

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—Miss Marjorie ("Midge") Gladman, University of Southern California tennis star, planned to leave here today for Forest Hills, after a period of intensive training she will enter 11 tournaments, it was said.

SMART-FINALS SHATTER SHELL WINNING SPURT

There was only one undefeated baseball team in the Santa Ana Twilight league today—the Auto Club of Orange County.

There were two, the Shell Oil company having jointly occupied first place with the Clubmen, but the Royal Dutchmen were taken for a "ride" by the Smart and Finals in the Bowl yesterday. The score was 4 to 3.

The Dutchmen got a run in the first inning when Dorman doubled and scored on wild pitches. This the Grocers matched in their half. Long and Putnam drawing passes and Long scoring on Furtch's single. Garrett's walk, a wild pitch and an error put the Smart and Finals in front in the second and they picked up one more in the third on an error and Furtch's second base knock.

The Oilers made it 3 to 2 in the third, Ebersole getting a life on an error, advancing on a wild pitch, stealing third and scoring on Taylor's sacrifice fly. Earl Jones went to the hill for the Dutchmen in the fourth and the Grocers got to him for what proved to be the winning run in the fifth. Cox drew four wide ones, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Long's single.

Shell Oil made a gesture in the last inning, scoring once on hits by Sturzy and Hyde but Cox quelled the rally at that point.

FRANCES WILLARD

Willard's annual exhibit and visiting day was held last Friday when parents and friends took ad- vantage of the cordial invitation to visit classes and see the many lovely exhibits on display from every department in the school. Many exhibits of special note were on display in the halls. One of the most attractive exhibits from the foods and clothing de- partments, under the direction of Miss Lillian Fitz and Miss Freda Schroeder, was seen in the home economics building. Clothing was on exhibition including lovely dresses, ensembles, underwear and numerous other garments.

Another interesting exhibit was that from the woodwork depart- ment under the direction of Robert Horn and Harold Bracewell. Mr. Bracewell's display was in the main hall. The exhibit included stands of various kinds, book racks, stools, candle holders, book ends, a violin, end tables, minia- ture motor boats, cedar chests, sewing cabinets, tea wagons, book shelves, miniature airplanes. These things were made by the eighth and ninth graders.

Mr. Horn's display in the north building shop included displays of various kinds of furniture, toys, miniature airplanes, book stands, and several lovely end tables, by the seventh grade boys. This ex- hibit also included many interest- ing samples of elementary me- chanical drawings. Norman Hinks had a fascinating display from his class in electricity.

The music department, under the direction of Miss Esther Joan Davis, had charge of the assembly program given in the assembly hall during the evening. Mrs. Edith Thatcher, teacher of Latin, had charge of an interesting Latin play in which her advanced Latin students took part. The Latin department also put on an inter- esting exhibition of illustrated books featuring many Roman pic- tures and customs. Soap figures of Roman architecture and famous characters were also included in the exhibit.

Miss Marjane Libby, teacher of art, had an exhibit of the work done in that department including free hand drawing, lovely design work of various types and inter- esting book plates.

The Commercial department under the direction of Harry Jack- son, and Miss Elfreda Biggin, conducted a display of business forms of all kinds and typing work. During the evening a class in the typewriting depart- ment was conducted in which students carried on their regular drill work at speed tests.

Miss Dorothy Broadway, science teacher, had an interesting dis- play of scientific projects, note- books and maps.

The English and mathematics departments had exhibitions of classroom work including note- books and various projects.

During the evening the Willard Welfare girls had charge of a candy and ice cream sale in the school cafeteria.

Guest of Service Club C. L. Chaffee was a guest of the Willard Service club last Tuesday noon at the regular luncheon and meeting. Mr. Chaf- fee is an expert in stocks and bonds and gave a talk to the boys on the subject of "Thrifty."

He emphasized very strongly the great advantage of the saving habit and the necessity for such a habit for a successful business career. Ibaquel Chavez, pres- ident of the club, introduced Mr. Chaffee.

Summer School The Santa Ana summer school session of six weeks will be con- ducted again this summer, June 24 to August 2, under the super- vision of Will S. Kellogg, principal of Willard. Classes in elementary, junior high and senior high school divisions will be conducted. Daily sessions will be held from 8 un- til 12 o'clock. July 4 will be a holiday. All the fundamental sub- jects in each division will be taught and any others where there is sufficient demand.

Those interested in attending this session are asked to consult Mr. Kellogg at the Willard build- ing as soon as possible. The us- ual fee will be charged.

Welfare Club A meeting of the Willard Wel- fare club was held May 22. The girls enjoyed a spring dance by Mary Tuthill, assisted by Eliza- beth Downie. A debate was held on the subject: "Resolved: That junior high school students should not be given homework." On the affirmative side were Florence Warner and Margaret Krebs. On the negative side were Virginia Fox and Elizabeth Downie.

ARTESIA

On Thursday afternoon, Artesia senior boys baseball team met Spurgeon and won by a score of 4 to 1.

In bank deposits, Artesia is still ahead of all schools in the city with a percentage of 31 per cent.

Friday was the annual picnic for the school, but this week only the six lower grades visited the coun- ty park. The kindergarten pre- mior, high and low first, and high and low second were chap- eroned by their respective teachers, Miss Joplin, Mrs. Abbey, Mrs. Crary, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Dietrich and Miss Flood. At noon a lunch of hot beans, hot dogs, ice cream and cake was served at the long tables under the trees. After enjoying the zoo and the playgrounds, 250 chil- dren, tired but happy, came home in the trucks generously donated by the Excelsior Creamery com- pany.

Somewhere in California is a young man, most likely a high school student, who will take his place with 47 other boys from the other 47 states in the Union, on or about August 1, in the Orange, N. J., Laboratories of Thomas A. Edison for a test by which the famous inventor hopes to select the boy who shows the greatest promise of following in his footsteps—The Turner Radio company, dealer here for the Edison radio, yesterday received literature concerning the elimination contest and will be glad to give information to anyone interested—Edison feels that somewhere in the United States is a boy possessing hidden genius and he hopes to make this hidden genius known by awarding that boy a scholarship in the school he may wish to attend—State winners will be selected by boards of competent judges picked by the various governors and the boys will make the trip to Orange, N. J., with all expenses paid—As a personal gift, Edison will present to every boy making the trip and taking the test one of his Edison radios—Often, we know, genius has lain buried, handicapped by inability to pursue college learning, but the Edison scholarship will take care of all tuition costs and laboratory fees for a period of four years in any technical school in the United States—Edison realizes that his days of usefulness are numbered and what a wonderful project for him to undertake, that of extending aid to the boy who gives most

U. S. Leading World In Radio Industry

WASHINGTON, May 30.—With from 10 to 12 million radio receivers within its borders, the United States is leading Europe by a great margin in the ownership of sets. Great Britain and Germany, for instance, have about 2,500,000 sets each; Italy has only 250,000 listeners, Japan, 550,000, Argentina 530,000 and Sweden 371,000.

RECEPTION THIS SUMMER TO BE BETTER, CLAIM

The hubbub of "summer reception" need not bother the radio fan during the summer of 1929, according to Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio section of the U. S. bureau of standards.

Improvement in radio transmitting equipment, the use of increased power, particularly by stations on cleared channels, and more efficient and selective receiving sets, Dr. Dellinger says, have combined to make summer reception, in all essentials, as smooth and satisfactory as that experienced during cool or cold weather.

The burial of the bog of summer interference has resulted in more ambitious plans for radio programs during the coming months than have ever been attempted during the mid-year season.

Discussing the reception ahead of radio listeners this year Dr. Dellinger says: "There is every indication that we shall have a good radio summer. In the early days of broadcasting, people were inclined to think that it was hardly worth while to listen in summer. That is very different now."

Promise of giving to the world more of the type of inventions with which he, himself, has helped make the world a better place in which to live—

GOVERNOR GETS OVER 20,000 LETTERS, TELEGRAMS URGING VETO OF RADIO SLANDER BILL

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 30.—More than 20,000 letters and telegrams have been received by Governor Young from radio listeners in all parts of California, asking him to veto senate bill No. 460, known as the "radio slander act." Patched by three amendments and adopted by the legislature after several stormy sessions, this measure was fought through to adoption by Senator George Rochester, of Los Angeles.

"Bob" Shuler, Los Angeles minister and radio speaker, is leading the fight to convince Governor Young that the bill should be vetoed. The fact that "Fighting Bob's" listeners are responding to his radio requests is demonstrated by the hundreds of telegrams hauled into the governor's office daily.

The governor frankly deprecates a "drive" on his office to obtain executive action. He already has weathered several such campaigns, notably the one to pardon Tom Mooney, labor leader. However, he is going to consider the Mooney application during his vacation period this year. But the cost of a drive, Governor Young insists, is more than it is worth.

"For the love of Pete, governor, veto that radio slander bill," is one of the messages received by the executive.

Slander, under Rochester's measure, is defined as a "malicious defamation, orally uttered, whether or not it be communicated through or by radio or any mechanical or other means or device whatsoever, tending to blacken the memory of one who is dead, or to impeach the honesty, integrity, virtue or reputation, or disclose the actual or alleged defects of one who is living, or of any educational, literary, social, fraternal, benevolent or religious corporation, association or organization, and thereby expose him or it to public hatred, contempt or ridicule."

Violation of the act is made punishable by a fine not to exceed $5000 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or both.

Shuler, it is declared, insists that the measure is aimed particularly at him, as the result of several fighting crusades he has waged in the past, from both pulpit and radio. He has already been subjected to suits for slander, but never has been convicted.

KFVD WILL PUT S. A. PROGRAM ON AIR JUNE 9

Through the courtesy of the Motor Transit company, which owns and operates radio station KFVD, in Culver City, a Santa Ana program sponsored by the chamber of commerce, will be put on the air from the KFVD studio between 8 and 10 o'clock Sunday night, June 9. It was announced today by A. M. Thomas, Santa Ana manager for the Motor Transit.

George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, co-operating with Thomas, has prepared what should prove an excellent program, featuring some of the city's best radio talent. One of the features will be a talk on Santa Ana, by William Iverson, of the Santa Ana Realty board. The same talk has been delivered over the radio by Iverson before and is the address with which he won a really good "home town talk" contest.

The following will appear on the program: Violinist—Georgia Bell Walton. Accompanist, Allen Lair.

Celloist—Eddie Burns. Accompanist, Allen Lair.

Flute soloist—Paul Beatty. Tenor soloist—N. D. Pritchett. Accompanist, Ione Peck.

Elaine Hammond—"The Banjo Girl."

The new federal radio commission, made complete again after the resignations of Commissioners Caldwell and Pickard by the appointments of Maj. Gen. Charles Saltzman and William Starbuck, is pictured here for the first time in Washington. Seated, left to right, are: Maj. Gen. Charles McKinley Saltzman, Iowa; Judge Eugene Sykes, Mississippi; Judge Ira N. Robinson, West Virginia, chairman of the commission; Harold A. Lafount, Utah, and William D. L. Starbuck, New York. Standing, left to right are: Carl Butman, secretary of the commission, and Bethuel Webster, general counsel.

FARM PROGRAM FOR NEXT WEEK IS ANNOUNCED

Beginning each day at 12 noon, and continuing 10 minutes, talks of interest to farmers, grovers and producers will be given during the week beginning June 3, under the auspices of the agricultural extension service, co-operating with radio station KFI. The farm advisory office announces the following programs:

June 3, "The Place of Cotton in San Joaquin Valley Agriculture," L. W. Taylor, farm advisor, Kern county.

June 4, "Diseases of Tomatoes, Melons and Cucumbers," P. H. Ernst, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

June 5, "The Eradication of Ground Squirrels Under County Supervision," Eugene S. Kellogg, horticultural commissioner, Santa Barbara county.

June 6, "Forestry of Yesterday and Today," C. M. Meredith, assistant fire warden, Los Angeles county.

June 7, "Coding Moth Situation in Walnuts," M. H. Kimball, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

June 8, "Combining Dairying with Other Agricultural Work to Employ Your Full Time at a Profit," Jay Dutter, southern representative, California Dairy council.

BEFORE THE MIKE

Crooning contraltos are pleasant to listen to, booming basses are thrilling and equally entertaining are the suppressed sopranos. But these "whispering" baritones and tenors are downright inaudible sometimes.

The best college radio entertainer of the northwest is David Westlund, of the University of Minnesota, who recently won such a contest conducted by KSTP, St. Paul. Being a saxophoneist, his fraternity brothers forbid him to practice in the fraternity house, so he joined the university band and practiced with it. He won over a field of 200 contestants and received a silver trophy as a prize. He uses his saxophone to earn his way through school.

Creating atmosphere calls for reality. The Seattle studios of the ABC, during the broadcast of the "Voice of the Mountain" program, in which lumbering was discussed, erected a circular saw in the studios to lend the buzzing sound of wood cutting to the story.

"Professor Knickerbocker," whose hand wields the hickory stick of "School Days," Saturday night program of the NBC, Pacific studios, is in private life Richard LeGrande. In modern style, this "Professor," who ran away from school as a youth, is "bringing to radio fans all the glories of the little red school house," he says. His pupils get unruly sometimes and sing a few songs in class, but they all help the feature.

Staff additions: Tom Terris, "The Vagabond Director," travel tale teller at KFI, Los Angeles; Alice Prindle, contralto, Seattle studios of the ABC.

Powell Crosley, who owns a couple of broadcasting stations in Cincinnati in addition to manufacturing receiving sets, is bound to make a lot of money. He has just started construction of a commercial airplane, the Crosley Moonbeam, and he has been manufacturing.

GERWING IS DEALER FOR TEMPLE RADIO

"The radio set you cannot hear" is the unique claim of the manufacturers of the Temple radio receiver, now being shown for the first time locally by the Gerwing Radio shop.

"Paradoxical as it may sound, 'the radio set you cannot hear' is strictly true of the Temple," declares Bob Gerwing, dealer.

"While tone stands out as the feature in which the new Temple is the acknowledged leader, it has many other qualities. These include distance, selectivity and exclusive hum eliminator," Gerwing said.

WBBM HETERODYNE BY JOHN, IN JAPAN

CHICAGO, May 30.—The federal radio commission reckoned without the rest of the world when they made the reallocation of wavelengths last November, says an announcement from WBBM, which is on a cleared channel but finds itself heterodyned by a Japanese station on the same frequency of 770 kilocycles.

Very little of this is experienced in the Central and Eastern parts of the United States, but many foreign fans are having their WBBM signals heterodyned, the station adds.

Disregard For Laws Is Laid At Doors Of 'Influence'

OFFICER TELLS REASONS FOR CRIME GROWTH

The monthly meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association is announced today in the issue of the Orange County Blotter, official organ of the association, for June 5, in the California hotel, Fullerton. A special surprise program, under the direction of the president, Jim Pearson, announced for the meeting. Excerpts from an article in the Blotter, written by George Hubbard, turn-key in the county jail, suggesting one of the prominent causes for the rapid growth of the general disregard of law on the part of the public, follow:

"Should a peace officer perform his duty without fear or favor and keep faith with the oath he took when he assumed the duty of a peace officer or should he govern himself according to the desires and requests of the friends and relatives of the party or parties arrested? There seems to be a general idea that the latter is the case."

Suggests Remedies

"Several suggestions occur to me that should tend to remedy this situation. First: No man should be appointed or placed in a position to enforce the law until he has a clear conception of his duty, knowledge of the law as it pertains to his department and the moral and physical courage to hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may. Second: When an officer makes an arrest and the facts beyond dispute, the offender certainly must not be permitted to go through 'influence' to evade a penalty attached to his particular crime or offense. For every time this occurs it tends to promote within the mind of that offender the idea that he is immune from the law because of the influence he can command and that he and his companions may conduct themselves as they see fit. 'The opposite is equally true. Those that have to pay the penalty prescribed by law gain the impression that the 'law' is only to be applied to those that have no influence."

"Do those that exercise influence do it for personal gain and the promotion of their own schemes, or do they do it in the interests of community betterment and with the desire to assist in the enforcing of law and order? It certainly seems there is no room for argument on that score."

"The rapid growth of the general disregard of law on the part of the public at large may, in a great measure, be laid directly at the door of the organizations or individuals who exercise their influence in fixing cases involving their friends."

Try To Use 'Influence'

"Only those engaged in this work realize the vast number of reckless and drunken drivers that are taking a toll of life greater than wars. When this type of offender is brought in his friends at once start working influence to get him out. What if it were someone dear to you who was his victim? 'You need not go far afield to observe common violations of law."

UNCLE SAM'S ENVOYS

These two young feminine diplomats will be Uncle Sam's envoys in foreign lands. Miss Nelle D. Stogsdall, left, and Miss Margaret Warner, both of Massachusetts, have been appointed vice consuls and now are receiving instructions in their new duties at the foreign service school of the state department, in Washington. Miss Stogsdall is a graduate of Wellesley college and Miss Warner was graduated from Radcliffe college.

GRIZZLED VETS OF CIVIL WAR CLUB GUESTS POMONA SENIOR CLASS DOINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

Brief recital by four veterans of the Civil War added spice and variety to the program at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at noon yesterday when the club was host to wearers of the blue and the gray in the civil strife.

Approximately 30 old veterans were present, and their introduction by individual hosts revealed that none were under 80 years of age. M. N. Fuller was the oldest man present, with his age next, having recently celebrated his 90th birthday.

The small number of soldiers present as compared with the number present when the club instituted its policy four years ago of entertaining the veterans at its meeting preceding Decoration day emphasized the fact the ranks of the fighters are being rapidly depleted.

In response to requests, Capt. Brown, commander of Sedgwick Post, this city; Capt. J. H. Hall, S. W. Sutton, Col. T. L. Hill, O. H. Maryatt and J. W. Price made brief remarks recounting some of their experiences in the war.

Perhaps one of the most interesting disclosures was that made by Judge Maryatt, who related that he was a college classmate of P. T. Barnum, and that he (Maryatt) had enlisted in the war virtually at the request of President Abraham Lincoln.

Barnum had given a man by the name of Craven $500 to serve in the war for him, and investigations revealed that Craven had not enlisted although he had collected $500 each from two other persons to substitute for them. Craven was sent to prison, and when it was learned that he had not dissipated the $1500 collected, but had placed it where it could be used only for the care and education of the two sons of a widowed sister, he was pardoned from prison.

Maryatt went to the president, explained the case, and Craven was pardoned. One of the conditions was that Maryatt see that Craven enlisted. In order to do this, Maryatt joined the army and followed Craven throughout the war.

One of the two boys whom Craven provided for the money he had secured underhanded today is a circuit judge in Iowa, Maryatt said.

Dr. H. MacVicker Smith was program chairman, and he introduced the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, who delivered an address appropriate to Memorial day.

School bond election campaign songs by a group of boys from Jefferson school, was one of the features of the program.

Many Santa Ana parents and friends of young men and women who are students in Pomona college, Claremont, have expressed interest in the commencement week exercises to be held on the campus there June 13 to 17. Announcement of the scheduled program was received here today.

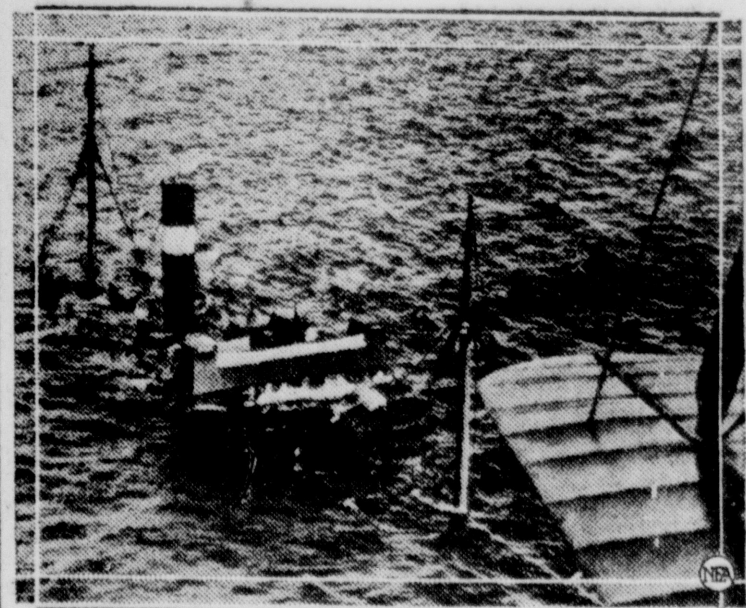

Features of interest on the week's schedule include a senior musicale in the Mabel Shaw Bridges Hall of Music at 3 p. m., June 13. The senior class play will be given in Holmes hall at 8 p. m., Friday, June 14, is the date of the senior class breakfast and the play will be repeated that night.

An alumni parade will be held at 10 a. m., Saturday, on the lawn north of Rembrandt hall, with a rally to follow. Alumni luncheons and campus tours will conclude the morning's program. At 4 p. m., the Men's Glee club will hold a reunion in the College club, Sumner hall, and the Women's Glee club reunion will be held in Harvard court. The alumni-faculty tea will be conducted at the same time on the lawn north of Rembrandt hall. An alumni banquet will be held in Guild hall at 6:30 p. m., with the alumni dance to follow at 9 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Sunday, June 16, is baccalaureate day and the college and community service will be held in the church at 11 a. m. An academic procession will be held at 5:30 p. m., and the trustees, faculty and seniors are to assemble in the patio. The Rev. Josiah Sibley, D. D., will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 6 o'clock.

Commencement day features will be conducted Monday, June 17. At 10:30 a. m., a recital of the faculty of the department of music will be held in Mabel Shaw Bridges Hall of Music. A senior class luncheon will be given at the Commons at 12 o'clock. The president's reception will be held in the Patio at 4 p. m., and another academic procession will assemble at 5:30. Frank A. Fetter, Ph. D., LL. D., will deliver the graduation address at 6 o'clock.

NEED FOR SURVEY OF SCHOOL FIRE INSURANCE TOLD BOARD

Thirty per cent of all fire insurance written in the United States is non-collectable. Out of $45,000,000 in fire insurance premiums paid in California, last year, $18,000,000 represents policies which are non-collectable. A survey of fire insurance policies on a large building in Santa Ana revealed that it actually was not protected by five cents worth of collectable insurance.

These statements were made at the last meeting of the board of education by J. A. Hinoite, president of the Policyholders' Service corporation, who pointed out to the board the advisability of having school fire insurance policies surveyed. Hinoite stated that his concern did not rest insurance or represent any insurance company. He stated that it was impossible for an insurance company to carry out a similar unbiased service, declaring that under the American agency system the companies never see actual policies until a loss occurs and a request for collection is made. The insurance companies give him concern 100 per cent co-operation, he said.

Hinoite appeared with F. F. Williams, Santa Ana representative of his firm. The board took his suggestion under advisement.

CONCENTRATE TRAFFIC COPS ON MAIN ROADS

Shifts in the working schedule of the Orange county division of the state traffic department have just been completed by Capt. H. C. Meehan, head of the department, in the interests of safety for the motoring public during the summer months.

"More men are being assigned to the heavier travelled highways for the next few months," Captain Meehan said in commenting on the changes that have been made. "Our summer travel invariably bunches up on the three main highways of the county, namely the Coast highway from Seal Beach to Capistrano Beach, State highway from Capistrano north to the county line on Whittier boulevard, and the Santa Ana canyon road."

The schedules of the officers working out of the Santa Ana office under Captain Meehan have been arranged so that more attention can be given to the unusually heavy traffic which is expected on the roads mentioned above. At the same time the other duties and patrols of other portions of the highways in the county are not being neglected.

No changes in personnel or methods of operation have been indicated as a result of the measure recently passed by the state legislature and signed by the governor, making the traffic organization strictly a state controlled body, according to Captain Meehan.

The Orange County Flying Club will carry passengers in their new plane every day from the Orange County Airport. Lieut. Ellis (2500 hours) will pilot. —(Adv.)

Interesting Addresses Given at Meeting Of Forum Club

Mrs. H. L. McKague acted as toastmistress at the latest meeting of the Forum club held in the Y. M. C. A. when several interesting addresses were made by members of the club.

Mrs. Major Anderson opened the program with a talk on "Child Labor," pointing out the importance of supervised play hours for children.

Mrs. M. F. Carlson talked on "The Value of Well Planned Reading," pointing out that statistics prove that the average person has time to read only one thousandth of one per cent of all the books that are published. Keeping this thought in mind, Mrs. Carlson said, it is important that each person should choose some subject and read only those books that have a bearing on that topic.

Mrs. W. J. Curran conducted her listeners on an imaginary trip through Sweden. She discussed the many quaint customs of the Scandinavian land and states that in Sweden there are only two wash days a year. Despite this fact, Swedish people are very clean as every hygienic is expected to have at least six trunks of clothes when she is married.

Mrs. Curran told of the manner in which the rye bread is prepared and described the fruits of that country that are similar to those of California except that in Sweden there are no citrus fruits.

The remainder of the time was given over to the discussion of knifings.

It was decided that no meetings will be held in July or August.

Mrs. Adolph Tannenbaum will act as toastmistress at the next meeting of the group and addresses will be given by Miss Hester Covington, Mrs. C. W. Hollister, Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, and Mrs. L. G. Allen.

Eastern Star Members Hold Covered-dish Dinner

One of the most delicious dinners ever enjoyed by members of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S. resulted from their plans for a covered dish menu served in the banquet room of the Masonic temple Monday night. Mrs. T. R. Overton as chairman of the committee on arrangements, and her committee members, Mrs. Mary Shawgo, Mrs. Hugh Parke, Mrs. Della Maud Ryan, Mrs. Charles Matern and Mrs. C. L. Neuschwanger, were warmly commended for the attention to detail with which they made the event such a success.

Dinner was followed by a short interval during which cards and the radio were enjoyed, and then way was led to the chapter room for the routine meeting. Observance of the annual custom of a memorial service for those members whose deaths have occurred during the year, was the outstanding feature of the evening, and adding to the solemnity of the occasion were the moments of silent prayer for two members now ill, Mrs. Sam Jernigan and Mrs. Adah Walters, both past matrons of Santa Ana chapter.

Interesting guests greeted included Mrs. R. C. Bunch and Mrs. J. W. Leake of Orange, and the former's sister, Mrs. T. A. Crawford, junior past matron of a Portland chapter, and a group of her friends, Mrs. N. B. Burkholder, Mrs. J. Neilsen and Mrs. L. Williamson, all of Portland. The four Eastern Star members are in the Southland on a pleasure trip, and will remain for the Shrine convention. Their hostess is planning a trip to Catalina for their entertainment.

It was decided that no meetings will be held in July or August.

Mrs. Adolph Tannenbaum will act as toastmistress at the next meeting of the group and addresses will be given by Miss Hester Covington, Mrs. C. W. Hollister, Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, and Mrs. L. G. Allen.

Mrs. Charles Riggs of 901 Spurgeon street, returned recently from a visit of several days at Long Beach.

Mrs. Frank Busch, mother of Edward J. Busch, 707 Spurgeon street, who has been spending a week with her son here, has returned to her home at Oregon City, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Castler, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson and daughter, Mary, who have been visiting here from Amsterdam, N. Y., are spending today at San Diego.

Mrs. Helen B. Hell and daughters, the Misses Helen and Elizabeth, of 915 Spurgeon street, plan to make an extended voyage to Alaska soon after the present school term closes.

Milton Webber of Montebello, who has been visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. E. D. Van Nest, returned to his home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Neff of 1069 West Third street, are spending today with friends at Irvine park.

Prof. and Mrs. L. L. Beeman and son, William, of 310 French street, plan to visit friends in the east during the summer vacation.

Mrs. Adelbert McMurdock and her sister, Mrs. Alice Morris Rotler, are in South Pasadena today where they planned to attend a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Thorn Mitchell.

This evening they will be present at a reunion of teachers of Forty-ninth street school, Los Angeles. Mrs. McMurdock taught in the Los Angeles city schools and Mrs. Rotler in the polytechnic elementary school of Pasadena for a number of years.

Miss Jennie M. White and Miss Marie Nelson of Santa Ana plan to leave June 1 for a month's visit in the middle west. Both young women will go to Chicago and Miss White will continue her journey to Columbus, O., where she plans to visit relatives.

ARTIST'S IDEA OF LINDY'S WEDDING

"The groom wore conventional black." Anyhow, here is an artist's conception of the Lindbergh-Morrow nuptials, drawn by Paul Kroesen, N. E. A. Service staff artist, and transmitted from Cleveland by telephoto. The bridal couple are shown facing Dr. William Adams Brown of Union Theological seminary. In the background are Ambassador Morrow, his brother, the bride's sisters, Elizabeth and Constance, and Mrs. Lindbergh, the bridegroom's mother.

Aeolian Club Presents Delightful Concert Tuesday Night

Dressed in quaint costumes of several decades ago, members of the Aeolian club made a charming picture Tuesday night when they presented a program at the First Presbyterian church under the direction of Miss Ruth Armstrong.

The club was assisted by Madame Manuella Budrow, soprano, Miss Margaret Gaeb, talented reader, and Earl Fraser, pianist and Mrs. Carl Diederich acted as accompanist.

The program opened with Easthope-Martin's merry "Come to the Fair" that was followed by a group of readings by Margaret Gaeb, she gave "Mon Pierre," "De Stove Pipe Hole" and "The Fan."

In the second group to be given by the chorus were "In An Old Fashioned Town" by Squire and "Estudiantina" by Lacome.

Madame Budrow's silver voice was heard in "Calm as the Night" by Bohm and "Cavalier" by Valverde. She responded to an encore with the well loved "La Paloma."

"Stars of the Summer Night" by Woodbury opened the next group to be presented by the club and it was followed by a plantation melody, "Southern Memories."

Particularly lovely was the organ and piano duo presented by Miss Ruth Armstrong and Earl Fraser. Their offering was Rubenstein's "Komenkoi Ostrow."

The program was concluded with the chorus singing "I Passed by Your Window" by Brahe.

Beautiful bouquets of flowers were presented Miss Armstrong, Mrs. Diederich, Madame Budrow, Miss Gaeb and Mr. Fraser.

Mrs. Eugene Thomas Is Hostess to Bridge Club Tuesday

Mrs. Eugene Thomas entertained her bridge club at her home at 510 Wisteria street, Tuesday evening.

Baskets of spring flowers in budding roses, sweet peas and snapdragons, were arranged throughout the rooms in attractive fashion.

After a series of games the score cards were added and Mrs. Frank Andrews, holding high score, received a painted luncheon cloth. Mrs. John Hartke, second high, was awarded a pottery pitcher, while Mrs. Margaret Campbell was consoled with a pretty gift.

Guests included Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. John Hartke and Mrs. Warren Cropper. Guests present were Mrs. Stanley Gates, Mrs. Kenneth Seadven, Mrs. Margaret Campbell and Miss Gertrude Heesch, of Long Beach. Mrs. Leavitt Ford, Garden Grove, Mrs. Burton Wright, Mrs. Laurence Phillips, Mrs. Harold O'Donnell and the hostess, Mrs. Thomas.

Members of the Orange County Shrine club are completing arrangements for the entertainment of members of the Band, Chanters and Patrol and their wives of the Za-Ga-Zig temple, on Monday.

The easterners will be in Los Angeles to attend the national convention and are planning to spend one day in this county.

Automobiles will be sent to Los Angeles for the group and it will be brought through Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange to Irvine park where a basket luncheon provided by feminine members of the local shrine will be served. They will be assisted by the Orange county supervisors who will furnish coffee, cream and sugar for the luncheon. The luncheon committee is working under the leadership of Mrs. Roy E. Langley.

Members of the Santa Ana assembly, Order of the Beauceant, will be in charge of decorating tables at the park for the event.

Anyone interested in assisting in entertaining the 185 guests has been requested to notify Mrs. Langley or Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh who will be chairman of the day.

Space has been reserved in Santa Ana so that the visitors may give a concert after leaving the park. The concert will take place on Broadway between Third and Fourth streets at 2 o'clock.

Venison Flavor For Your Lamb
Leg of lamb is much too expensive not to give it everything possible in attention while cooking. . . . delicious, too, when served hot, but rather tasteless when cold. If you like the flavor of VENISON let me suggest preparation that will give you a leg of lamb fit for royalty.

First of all, carefully peel off all the parchment-like skin so that a "woolly" flavor may be avoided. Have some nice fat pork cut in thin thread-like pieces. Take a sharp knife and cut shallow "button holes" in the leg and thread and an electric reading lamp over the pillows, so much the better.

THERE'S PATHOS
And yet, far from laughing at a country yearning to "go quaint," there is something pathetically appealing about it, also.

It's a groping out for romance, adventure, a vague linking of quaint old inns with all the esons and stories we have heard. We think of Scott and Tennyson and Noyes and Robin Hood and Lorna Doone.

The "quaint old inns" of the old world are about as gone as here at home. But over these tales of the wonders and grandeur of modern hotels, 1200 rooms, 1200 baths, make more of a hit than any rumors of "quaint old thatched inns."

Which may be one advantage of being a very new and young country. We are romance hungry, even if we don't quite know how to achieve satisfaction of this hunger.

the pork through them. This lards the lamb very successfully. But before you do this take a teaspoonful of GROUND GINGER and half as much WHITE PEPPER and rub it into the leg, then lace the pork through the slits and cover the whole leg with a thin layer of FRENCH MUSTARD and put away to marinate for 4 hours. Roast the leg in a hot oven, basting by hand every 15 minutes. Allow 20 minutes to the pound for baking time.

TODAY'S RECIPE Mountain Dew

2 cups rich milk.
4 tablespoons crushed crackers
3 egg yolks, well beaten
3 egg whites, beaten stiff and dry
1 cup fine white sugar.
Juice of 1 lemon
Pinch of salt.

Heat the milk to take off the chill, then pour slowly into the yolks which must be beaten until thick and yellow. Add a pinch of salt and fold in the crushed cracker crumbs.

And, by the way, do NOT use cracker meal; roll your own! Pour the mixture into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a medium oven until delicately set.

While this part of the pudding is baking prepare the top part. Beat the whites till they will stand up in little peaks before adding a grain of sugar.

The sugar must be beaten in in very small quantities and after all is in fold in the strained lemon juice, pile the meringue over the hot baked pudding and slowly brown. Chill thoroughly before serving.

With a calorie total of 1100 an almost even division is made between the proteins and carbohydrates, concentrated ones in this instance. A pudding as rich as this should serve six people. It is ideal for children and for the adult who must eat nourishing, easily digested foods.

A delicious garnish for this pudding is fresh berries or sliced peaches well chilled.

Sealed Sunshine, the current leaflet featuring EGGS, briefly tells why eggs have the health attributes found in sunshine. There are recipes given for salads, entrees and desserts using eggs.

The leaflet is free this week if you send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow's recipe will tell you how to make what an old cook book calls a "Quick Salad Dressing." It is unusually good.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Tonight will be the final opportunity to see "The Desert Song," that lyrical operetta which, transferred to the silver sheet, has been the offering of West Coast-Walker theater for the past two days. Everyone has sung, hummed or whistled the tuneful measures of "The Desert Song" itself, or some of the many lovely melodies which distinguished the operetta, and their vogue bids fair to be even greater since the successful screen version which will bring the production to so many thousands of theater-goers.

Work of everyone in the large cast seems to be of a high standard of excellence, and John Boles has a very rich and beautiful voice, which coupled with an engaging personality, makes him an admirable "Red Shadow," in the principal role. Carlotta King's voice is quite lovely, too, in the role of "Margot," and her work is smooth and pleasing.

Comedy relief to the dramatic features of the plot is offered by the work of Louise Fazenda and Johnny Arthur both of whom are past masters of the art of comedy. John Miljan is seen in a nice characterization but for sheer drama no one in the cast excels Myrna Loy in the exotic role of "Azurle," the native dancing girl. Miss Loy's speaking voice should give her the prominence which her artistic work warrants, in talking films.

Orchestral accompaniment to the picture is excellent, and offers the entire musical score of the operetta.

WEST END
All the ghostly things that can happen in a modern mystery thriller, seem to happen in "The Last Warning," starring Laura La Plante, now showing at the West End theater. There is a murder—in fact, two murders—a haunted theater and ghosts warning a theatrical company not to stage their show.

Miss La Plante has never been more beautifully photographed. And as a versatile actress, the little blonde comedienne is in a class by herself. She isn't guilty of the crime—but we won't tell you who is.

There are many splendid performances in the supporting cast, notably those of Montagu Love, as the producer, Roy D'Arcy, as the leading man, Margaret Livingston as the former burlesque queen, John Boles as the understudy and many others, including Bert Roach, Mack Swain, Burt McIntosh, Mimi Corrie Daumery, Slim Summerville, Buddy Phelps, D'Arcy Corrigan, Charles French, Tom O'Brien and Fred Kelsey.

YOST BROADWAY

Local motion picture fans have a treat at the Broadway theater, where "It Can Be Done," a new Universal talking picture starring Glenn Tryon is featured. Pretty Sue Carol is the heroine.

The picture is a revelation of Tryon's ability as characterization. He starts as a shy, diffident clerk and ends up as a self-confident go-getter of hearts and contracts. The story tells how a backward young man is inspired by a girl and a book on "Success" to snap out of it and become a live-wire. The book is from the pen of the girl's father. The boy, newly fired from a publishing concern, meets the girl and reads the book. He forthwith undertakes to sell the manuscript of the book to the publisher who has just fired him. The events that transpire during the working out of this project are highly amusing.

The cast includes Tom O'Brien, Richard Carlyle, Jack Egan and Richard Carle.

This picture offers ample proof that comedy scenes are just as adaptable to synchronization as dramatic scenes. Tryon, long trained on the vaudeville stage, is adept at "putting his lines over."

The most brilliant accomplishment of Vitaphone, Warner Bros. finest achievement on the audible screen is undoubtedly "The Desert Song," the first complete screen operetta ever filmed, which shows at Walker's tonight for the last time in Santa Ana. It is a complete triumph for Warner Bros. and for Vitaphone alike and greatly enlarges the field of entertainment of motion and talking pictures. Every film patron will go to see it because of its novelty, and remain to be enchanted by its visual and audible beauty.

Sigmund Romberg's delightful music loses none of its charm and allure on the screen for it is magnificently played by the Vitaphone Symphony orchestra and capably rendered by a cast of singers who possess excellent voices and know how to use them for recording purposes. John Boles, tenor, who plays and sings the role of the Red Shadow, and Carlotta King, lyric soprano, in the role of Margot, held the audience captive by their numbers as surely as though they had been on the stage in the flesh. Their duet, "The Desert Song," is one of the moments of high and exquisite beauty in the operetta, while their "Then You Will Know" was also received with great applause. Mr. Boles' singing of "Ho! the Riff riding song," and the "Farewell" to his desert followers delighted the audience as did Miss King's "Romance" and the "Sabre Song." Marie Wells, Louise Fazenda and Johnny Arthur proved themselves to be highly gifted singers as well as excellent actors. Edward Martindel acted a non-singing role as the commander of the French garrison.

The story of the stage operetta was adapted for the screen by Harvey Gates. Roy Del Ruth directed with a constant flair for the romance and drama and the lyric beauty of the operetta. It is a constant delight. The chorus is said to contain 100 voices, and the volume of the chorus numbers makes it entirely credible. They were selected for their ability as singers and they put the ensemble across with stirring effect.

The story is a highly colorful and dramatic presentation of life in the desert and of a French garrison in Morocco. Pierre Brasseur, sympathizes with the mistreatment of the natives and, disguised as the Red Shadow, he becomes the leader of a band of tribesmen who seek justice for the natives, attacking their oppressors.

El Toro Group Gives Two Plays

EL TORO, May 30.—The recent Town Talent presentation given in the local hall was well received. Two one-act plays were given, the first being "When the Lamp Went Out." The cast was as follows: Reader, Catherine Gray; the heroine, Doris Britten; the mother, Dale Thomas; the villain, Franklin Pierce; the hero, Robert Harris.

The second play was Booth Tarrington's "Station YYY," with Robert Harris as Herbert Wingstead, Ruth Trapp as Mrs. Wingstead, Cary Gray and Hildred Wetzel as the sisters, Caroline and Anita Wingstead, Dale Trapp as Mr. Wingstead, Richard Harris as Roger Colby, and Charles, the chauffeur, Franklin Pierce.

Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Cary Gray, Catherine Gray, Dale Thomas and Hildred Wetzel. Miss Louise Moulton was the pianist. On behalf of the casts, Richard Harris presented a bouquet of Killarney roses to Mrs. George Osterman, who assisted with the production.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Well, goodness me," one Tiny cried. "This is a mighty funny ride. I'd rather be most any place than on this big fat whale. It scares me, being up so high." And he heaved a worried sigh. The others, too, were frightened, 'cause they all looked rather pale.

Then Scouty said, "Well, there is naught that we can do. We're simply caught. I wonder if the big whale knows that we are on his back. Our raft is heavy, there's no doubt. I'd think the whale would squirm about, and try to dump us in the water with a sudden whack."

But Mister Whale just swam along, and didn't think a thing was wrong. 'Twas marvelous the way he skimmed right through the quiet sea. His tail would flap up in the air, and give the Tinymites a scare, but all in all, the trip was fine, and safe as it could be.

All of a sudden Coppy said, "Hey, Tinymites, look overhead."

The Goofygoose is way up there. He's watching us I guess. Perhaps there's no cause for alarm. He'll see that we come to no harm. I'll bet he's laughing at us all for getting in this mess."

Thus, on they went for quite a while, and Carpy broke out in a smile. "Shucks, we don't need to worry. Everything is fine," said he. "We'll just go riding round about until the big whale gets tired out. I'm satisfied as long as no big windstorm hits the sea."

And then, when everything seemed great, the Tinymites, with usual fate, were startled with the queerest thing that they'd run into yet. The monstrous whale began to spout, which made the crew of Tines shout. A stream of water rose and fell, and got them soaking wet.

(The Goofygoose saves the Tines in the next story.)

of these corollaries of a purely legal principle requires extensive engineering data for its application. "The fact that the number of channels is limited and that the number of stations assignable to any one channel is again limited, imposes upon the government the necessity of choice among applicants for the radio channels."

"This is the underlying reason why a federal radio commission came to be created. To provide for choice among those who aspire to construct and use radio stations, congress created not only the commission."

LEAGUE CALLS LAGUNA BEACH MEET TONIGHT

LAGUNA BEACH, May 30.—What bond proposals should be given its approval is the general purpose of a meeting of the Home Protective league of this city this evening in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The city council has asked various organizations to express approval or disapproval of five propositions which have been tentatively suggested. The Home Protective league, formed when the city proposed sewerage the Arch Beach portion of the city, and which protested vigorously at that time, will also consider other matters, but the bond election issue is the chief one.

It is the purpose of the city council to sound public opinion and possibility of public support through the reports made by the various organizations asked to consider the matter. If there is little likelihood of public support being given any of the five proposals, they will not be included on the ballot.

The proposal which it is expected may be most vigorously debated is that listed as proposition No. 1 in the form letter sent out by the city council. It asks for a survey of the city, including the making of the official city map, the establishing of grades and the making of a topographic map, the estimated cost of the work being $25,000.

Though this has been placed before the citizens in various ways at various times, there are conditions about the way it is presented by the council in its letter which are expected to arouse opposition to it, according to sentiments which have been expressed on the streets.

THE MEANING OF MEMORIAL DAY

Sixty-one years ago General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, set apart the 30th day of May as a Memorial Day for the soldiers and sailors of the Civil War. From that day to the present time this day has been observed so generally that it approaches unanimity.

The zenith of the strength of the Grand Army of the Republic was reached probably 20 years or more after the Civil War, when nearly every member possible had joined it, and before the hand of death had begun to thin the ranks so dreadfully. In the past few years, the boys of the Civil War have dropped away with great rapidity, and in some communities where a strong and aggressive post had carried on, there is not a solitary comrade left to follow the band, and stand beside the grave of those who have gone before. In most communities the sons of veterans, being personally, as well as patriotically, interested, have taken charge of the services. In other communities the American Legion has taken charge of Decoration Day.

We believe we are safe in saying that there is no single day which is observed by the people of the country that has been more fruitful in the development of real, intelligent patriotism than has Decoration Day. It has not been a day that has been celebrated, not a day when cannons have boomed, but rather a day when we have stood beside the grave of the heroic dead and considered our obligations to the living and have renewed our determination to be faithful to the trust that our fathers have left to us. The flag for which they died embodies the history and the purpose of our government. It was this history and this purpose that called forth the sacrifice. That history remains and the purpose is enduring. Memorial day has impressed that upon the minds of thoughtful men more than has any day of our history. It is a day to take stock of our national character and ideals. We are growing in wealth, and materialism seems to have gotten a grip on our nation's life that is lamentable.

It is a good time to remember that courage and sterling character and integrity usually are found in the same man, that Washington refused remuneration for his services to the nation; all that he asked was that he be reimbursed for his personal expenses during the 7 years of the Revolutionary War.

We should remember that Abraham Lincoln, the man who piloted us through the four years of civil conflict, and the study of whose life has brought about a better understanding between the North and South, before he was elected to the Presidency refused what was then almost a fabulous salary, offered by President Corning of the New York Central Railroad, Mr. Lincoln saying that he could not accept it, consistent with his other duties.

Let us bear in mind that General Grant, the leader of the armies of the Union, that quiet man of purpose and determination, who finally forced Lee to surrender at Appomattox, considered his honorable name above all other considerations, and, getting into the maelstrom of economics which he did not understand, plunged into debt the last few months of his life, almost in poverty, undertook to write his memoirs to pay off the heavy indebtedness and to insure his family against want, and in spite of the pain and sickness he laid down his pen, and was buried in pomp and honor only after he had succeeded in carrying out his purpose.

Let us bear in mind that his heroic, courageous opponent, General Robert E. Lee, refused salaries as high as $50,000 per year, offered by insurance companies for the use of his name. When Mr. Lee understood that it was name that they wanted, he declared his name was not for sale. With his own home property at Arlington confiscated, with himself in need, he turned down all such offers and accepted the meager sum of $1500.00 a year at the Washington and Lee University in order to gain the privilege of teaching the sons of his former comrades in arms that there was a life bigger than defeat, and that character was the greatest achievement.

It is a good time to remember that if America stands for anything at this hour it is for liberty under law. It is to carry out this purpose that the Crime Commission has been appointed, and is undertaking its responsibilities under the direction of the President. No greater matter presents itself to the American citizen at this time than to address himself, in the spirit of devotion and heroism, to the carrying out of the great proposition which is America's to give, it is her heritage to the world, her genius; which is, that liberty and law are the inseparable handmaidens, who are traversing the road to national destiny. This must be the purpose of America, if the Creator has any special purpose for her.

And then again, the teachings of the day would suggest that it is incumbent upon us all to find a better way for the solution of international difficulties than to go out on the battlefield and with bombs and guns and gas destroy the flower of the youth of every nation.

A cartoonist for the Register who recently passed away, Jack Fisher, than whom there was none braver, declared to us on one occasion, as he was reviewing the past and looking toward the future, that every thinking man who was in the war would work to do away with it entirely, so that the future generations, and particularly the mothers, shall never have to suffer what this generation has suffered.

May we not believe that Tennyson was speaking with the lips of truth and prophecy when he said, "For I dived into the future far as human eye could see,

Saw the visions of the world and all the wonder that would be;

Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails,

Pilots of the purple twilight, dropping down with costly bales.

Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew

From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue;

Far along the world-wide whisper of the south-wind rushing warm,

With the standards of the people plunging thro' the thunder storm;

Till the war-drum throbbed no longer, and the battle-flags were furled

In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World."

WHAT IS CO-OPERATION?

Co-operation, what wrongs are committed in the name! You are potentially as dangerous a word as you are one of safe and sound helpfulness.

If used rightly you are the fountain source of community achievement; but if used loosely and injudiciously you become but a part of an oily phrase and will lead into paths of discord and destructive influence.

You have been defined by wits, made the theme of oratorical bombast, and held up as the guiding hand in all walks of life; and one can not imagine a finer influence than you, when you assume the character and nature of genuine and whole-hearted co-operation.

It is conceivable, however, that your appeal has been taken advantage of for motives of sentiment rather than for purposes of sense. You do not, necessarily, consist of doing the thing the other fellow thinks ought to be done; and you certainly do not consist of following the will of the minority, when the majority have made their decision.

Co-operation, you are not just getting out with the other fellows and "whooping 'er up," as we say; but, on the other hand, you can take place in a quiet way and alone.

You can occur by the withholding of the tongue when silence saves homes and reputations.

You can be made manifest by the humble participation in community life, by unostentatious acts of charity and kindness, and, indeed, by merely leading the life of an honest and honorable citizen.

In a general sense, you are both active support and mere acquiescence, and sometimes this latter named species of yourself is the more laudable because the more difficult of performance.

You are the consistent support of home business and home institutions, because you are thus endeavoring to help build up your own community.

You should never permit yourself to be used in crowds when there is no other argument for any given proposition than the blatant shouting of your name as an appeal for action.

You should make your appearance as the result of careful consideration, never as the cause of hasty and inconsiderate action.

You are both a power for good and an excuse for untimely action.

Co-operation, when you have done things, see that you have done them well.

THE WORKER PRODUCES MORE

One of the chief reasons for this country's present high state of prosperity is given in the May issue of the Outline of Business, a publication issued by the Central National Bank of Cleveland.

This shows that the average American worker, in 1928, produced goods worth $7508.

In 1914 the average stood at $3445 per worker. During the years since then it has risen steadily, due partly to the introduction of labor-saving machinery and the development of improved production methods, and partly to greater efficiency on the part of the workers themselves.

This great increase in productivity per worker speaks volumes about the health of American industry.

Reparations Deadlock

Oakland Tribune

Though behind it may be much of the financial well-being of Europe, the reparations conference, dragging on for fifteen weeks, has been singularly uninteresting. None but the expert may think in terms of money so large and none but those present have been aware of the details of the plans offered. Germany has been offered terms easier than those set forth in the Dawes plan but not so lenient as those proposed in the program which the American representative, Owen D. Young, put before the conference. If Germany accepts the allies offer, it will be saddled with a debt of something like ten billions of dollars present or capital value. The allies say this is the final offer; Germany says it is not to be accepted.

The question is, what is to follow? Refusal of Germany to accept terms will leave finances in Europe in a state of suspension. The Dawes plan will still be in force and under it there are ways for the debtor nation to pass by payments if it can show inability to raise the money. Fear of such a situation has caused the allies to render a bill much lower than they were willing to concede possible and may cause them still further to reduce the amount.

Settlement of this problem is important not only to Europe but to this country and the world generally. It would have a tendency to stabilize conditions in Germany in particular and that is internationally desirable. On word from President Hoover, who probably knows more than any other American about the internal conditions of Europe, our delegate, subject to approval of Congress, offered concessions. Others must do the same, or payments will be a long time in coming.

Charm For Tourists Is Still Potent Here

Pasadena Star-News

Tourists are coming into Southern California, over transcontinental railroads, by thousands. Summer excursion rates from the East are in effect. They will be in effect until September 1. All the railroads which span the continent expect heavy tourist travel Californiaward during the summer and many thousands are coming by automobile.

What a change has come in a few years! There was a time when tourist travel to California in summer was virtually nil. But now tens of thousands come to this state every summer, for vacations and on sightseeing tours, and to enjoy the summer climate here.

The promotional information agencies have done California a very good turn indeed by impressing upon residents of other states that summer climate in California is mild; that summer is really one of the most delightful of all seasons here. In times past, extremely high temperatures in Death Valley and other super-heat spots in this state, were broadcast widely. As a consequence many residents in distant states concluded that the summers were infernally warm all over California. This erroneous impression has been pretty well counteracted. Men, women and children come here now, in summer, from states where there is much sultriness in summer, to find the weather here generally mild and delightful, and with the nights always cool, even following the warmest days.

More Truth Than Poetry

A POLITICAL MYSTERY

I know that in the melting pot—
By which the U. S. A. is meant—
The provident and thrifty Scot
Is not a prime ingredient.
When campaign talk is running high
In presidential years, you'll note
That politicians seldom try
To gain the Caledonian vote,
Although profuse in their orations
In praise of sundry other nations.

No Scot, as far as I'm aware
Is sitting in our Congress now
Yet influence was brought to bear Upon the tariff rates somehow.
We pay on linens and cigars
On woolen goods and cattle bones
On boots and shoes and foreign cars,
But not a cent on curling stones,
And curling is a winter sport
To which the Scotch alone resort.

The Celt, the German, and the Swede
And men of Mussolini's race
Are summoned out in time of need
To help a statesman win high place.
Their heroes are all loudly praised
When campaign thunder is let loose,
Yet never any voice is raised
For Wallace, or for Robert Bruce
But when the tariff bill comes in Somehow the Scotchmen always win.

When The Engine Stalls

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and

WADDILL CATCHINGS

Some people feel sure that because something is wrong with the social order, everything is wrong. Have you met any of these sad reformers? They seem to think that because change is the law of progress, any change must be progress.

To such people a defense of the gold basis of money seems reactionary, and therefore bad.

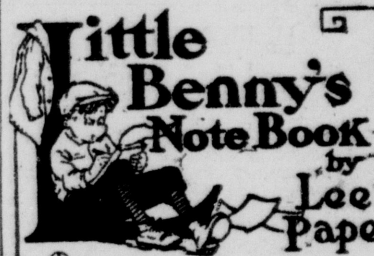

They want money—and plenty of it—money based on land, on hours of labor, on wheat, on power plants, on kipped herding—on almost anything.

Well, it is stupid to insist that everything is all right when every now and then we have surplus raw products, idle factories, idle workers, idle dollars, and no way of letting the materials, machines, men, and money go on with the work of feeding, housing and clothing us. Something really is wrong.

But when an engine stalls, we can't set it in motion by seizing a hammer and pounding the engine in the wrong place. Valuable time is wasted. Attention is diverted from the right place. And the machinery is injured. Meanwhile, the bungling mechanics work themselves into such bad temper that there is less prospect than ever of finding the real trouble.

To attack the gold basis of money is to hammer our economic machinery in the wrong place.

After supper last nite pop was smoking with a unsatisfied expression, saying, "This cigar tastes like straw and there's nothing in the newspaper that I don't know already and if I started to read a book just now I'd drop off to sleep like a brute in the jungles and my legs don't seem either willing or able to take a walk and the thawt of bowling or playing billiards fills me with violent panes and life seems stale, flat and unprofitable. Meaning he felt hum, and I sed, Well, do you want me to give you an idea, pop?"

Ideas make the world go round, pop sed, Meaning what was it, and I sed, Put on your shoes and hat and coat and take me to the circus.

Hah, the siren call of adventure, pop sed, But its impossible, you haff to get up in the morning, he sed.

Ill sleep coming home in the trolley car, pop, I sed, I get too much sleep anyways, you always say so when you wake me up in the mornings and I go back to sleep agen, I sed, and pop sed, Objection sustained, but everybody will be going to the circus tonite, the cars will be so jammed Ill be a fizical reek and a nerviss grease spot by the time I get there.

No you wont, pop, Ill tell you minstrel jokes out of my new book all the ways there, and you wont even notice it, I sed, and pop sed, Objection sustained, but the mob coming out will be gassily, Ill have my toes stepped on and my pockets dipped into and Ill swallow millions of other peoples germs and get 2nd hand sawdust in my eyes, and besides, it will keep you up to o late, the nite air hasent enough sunshine in it according to the latests scientific reports.

Aw, G, pop, you dont haff to worry about me, the later Im up the tighter Ill sleep, if Im tired enough Ill sleep 2 hours worth in one, I sed, Objection overruled, Well, maybe Satiday afternoon if you dont remind me more than 42 times, he sed.

Me keeping count of the times Ive reminded him so far, being 14.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE HEATHER IS WET

During the last year I have, if I may trust my memory, received invitations to join committees that were seeking to save me and my fellow countrymen from the following dangers:

The dangers of militarism.
The dangers of pacifism.
The dangers of socialism.
The dangers of over-population.
The dangers of birth-control.
The dangers of Catholicism.
The dangers of Protestant Modernism.

The dangers of theatrical obsecenity.
The dangers of theatrical censorship.
The dangers of reaction.
The dangers of revolution.
The dangers of extravagance in government.
The dangers of economy in government.

An English writer, commenting upon a flourishing crop of like committees and leagues in England, says: "We have today over a thousand committees engaged in saving us. But nobody sweeps the country. The heather is fire."

In other words, we are in a time when revivalists are increase but revivals on the crease.

We seek short-cuts to salvation. We are, however, skeptical self-appointed saviors.

The heavy crop of cults grow every year testifies the fact that we are hungry for something that will give lift a meaning and momentum, lives.

We hunger for short-cuts to salvation, but in our hearts, we know that there are no short-cuts to salvation.

Science has made us a generation, has made even men have never seen the inside laboratory skeptical of magic formulas.

The heather is wet. It is harder than ever to

The next step will be to take science accepts its social responsibility and plays responsible to us.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

MEMORIAL DAY

This is the time when we cease work for a day and remember. It is right and proper that we do this for we are too likely to forget past service. Old debts are hardest to pay.

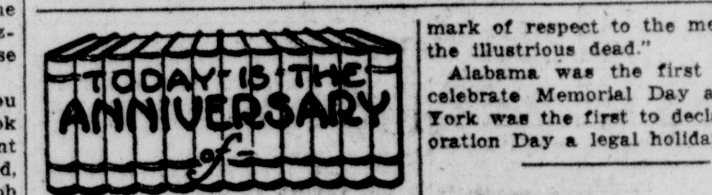

Our country is very happy. There is no threat of evil hanging over us. We are strong and glad and free among the peoples of the earth. We have come far along the road to power since the day when the embattled farmers fired the shot heard round the world.

It is right that once a year we stop to count the steps we have taken, and the leaders who directed them. It is time to remember all those whose lives are builded into the structure of our country and pay tribute where tribute is due.

The roll of our country's heroes is too long to write here. But not one who served his country could be spared without weakening our proud estate. George Washington led the army to victory. He stands large in the memory of Americans but the least and last little drummer boy is to be counted in when the Roll of Remembrance is read.

There are many to honor the great dead. But upon this day we who know what it means to serve in the ranks should pause to remember those who are least likely to be remembered.

In every village and town in this land there is a name to be recalled and honored this day. There is a grave to be decorated, a monument to be marked. While honoring the great it is well to honor those who made the greatness possible—the private, the water boy, the gallant woman who stayed at home to maintain the life of the army and nation. They are to come into their own in the roll call today.

DECORATION DAY

To the south, and more particularly to a small group of women who met in Columbus, Ga., April 26, 1866, America owes the setting aside of a day during the year for the purpose of decorating soldiers' graves.

On May 5, 1868, General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., following the southern example, issued a proclamation appointing May 30 as the day to honor the memory of Union soldiers. Originally, the term Memorial day was used in the south, and Decoration Day in the north. In recent years, however, the southern name has grown in popularity and is now used throughout the nation.

Today is not a national legal holiday, but is celebrated as a state holiday everywhere except in eight southern states. Each of these celebrates Memorial Day, and the majority on April 26. Congress always adjourns on May 30 "as a
